Mother And Child Die in Family Tragedy

A few hours after police found the strangled body of Neil Ellis Wartnik (left), 10 months, of Toluca Lake, Cal., in a bed in his rambling one-story mansion, they located the child's mother, Mrs. Lena Wartnik, 30 (right), a suicide victim in a Hermosa Beach hotel. Her wrists had been slashed. A note, believed to have been written by the former model, was found near the child's body. Mrs. Wartnik was estranged from her husband.

Arab Mob Attacks U. S. Iraq Legation

By the Associated Press

Death's toll mounted today in the Palestine civil strife as an Arab strike protesting partition went through its third and last day. New disorders broke out elsewhere in the Arab world, even as appeals were made by both Arabs and Jews for a halt to the violence. Demonstrators in Iraq set fire to the United States information office at

Rabbi Korff Sees Yank Aid For Palestine

In militant tones Grand Rabbi Baruch Korff reaffirmed in Boston today that he would seek financial support for the Palestine underground from the United Nations and forecast that American war veterans would go overseas to safeguard Jewish independence. Rabbi Korff, who has just returned to Boston after spending weeks in a French jail for his alleged attempt to "bomb London" with propaganda leaflets, stated that a George Washington battalion, composed of 250,000 vets is already being planned for Palestine duty.

The young rabbi, however, would not identify the top Army generals who he stated supported the scheme.

"This battalion will safeguard Jewish independence and peace in Palestine from any totalitarian nation which might possibly believe that, due to unrest, they could put their troops in Palestine," he said.

"I am not a member of the underground, although I do believe in armed resistance," said Rabbi Korff. "I believe in the objectives of the underground and will support them morally and financially."

The young rabbi, who will spend the next few days at the Dorchester home of his father, Grand Rabbi Jacob I. Korff, was met at the station by a hundred friends and relatives and then went to the Adath Jacob Synagogue.

He denied any complicity in the alleged "bomb" plot, dismissing questions with:

"If I had anything to do with it, it would have been bombed before they knew anything about it."

Baghdad, wrecked furniture and smashed windows, despite efforts of police to halt them.

All Baghdad's Jews were being registered in what was believed to be a precautionary move looking toward possible evacuation of the Jewish population to a safe place.

The U. S. charge d'affaires made a protest against the attack on the information office. A government official said Ahmed Pasha Alrawi, director-general of foreign affairs, expressed his government's apologies and assured the Americans the damage would be paid for.

Strong police units guarded the area to prevent any further outbursts against foreign legations.

CHILDREN INJURED

A crowd also attacked the British Institute and kindergarten, smashing some doors. Minor injuries from stones were suffered by some of the 20 boys in the kindergarten.

The Jewish quarter of Beirut, Lebanon, was shaken by a bomb explosion, but there were no casualties.

Four new deaths were reported today, bringing to at least 33 the number who have died in the wave of pillage, burning and destruction. Hundreds have been injured.

One Arab was killed and several Jews and Arabs were wounded in renewed fighting in the No-Man's Land between all-Arab Jaffa and all-Jewish Tel Aviv.

A Jewish factory worker was reported shot to death by police in the Jaffa sector. A Jewish truck driver died of knife wounds sustained in Wednesday's Jerusalem fighting, and the slashed body of another Jew was found in the center of the Holy City.

An Arab mob on the highway between Tel Aviv and Lydda Airport stoned a Norwegian airlines automobile and beat up the Jewish driver but did not molest a uniformed official in the car.

4 JEWS ARRESTED

Four Jews were arrested in Jerusalem when, according to an official statement, they fired on Palestine Arab policemen. A Sten gun, four pistols, three home-

U. S. Aid May Boomerang, Solon Warns

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—Emergency help for Europe and China began its journey through the House today with an opposition cry that "all we give in the way of aid may eventually be used against us in one way or another."

Rep. Leo Allen (R.) of Illinois, called upon his colleagues to defeat the $590,000,000 measure immediately and give searching scrutiny to future foreign spending proposals lest "the industrial plants built with our money be used to manufacture the implements of war for Russia to use against us."

Allen, chairman of the rules committee, was scheduled as first speaker at the opening of House debate.

At least two days of heated debate face the bill before it collides head-on with a roadblock of amendments designed to reduce its financial authorization and restrict its application.

Major differences are in the amounts of interim aid proposed—$390,000,000 by the House (foreign affairs committee) and $397,000,000 by the Senate—and in the countries that would receive it.

Philip Gets New Admiralty Post

LONDON, Dec. 4 (INS)—The Duke of Edinburgh—bridegroom of Britain's heiress presumptive to the throne—was transferred today to duty within the Admiralty where he is to be assigned "with the director of operations division."

The transfer becomes effective Dec. 15, when Prince Philip and Princess Elizabeth are to complete their honeymoon.

The royal honeymooners presently are at Balmoral Castle in Scotland.

Philip's new assignment will permit him to remain in London.

ON TRIAL IN DEATH OF BABY—Eleanor Blazier, 22, Somerville, N. J., choir singer and nurse's aide, talks with her attorney, Judge Samuel R. She has been accused of strangling the infant in her room at the Bound Brook Hospital. Her purported confession was read at opening of the trial.

French Riots Spread To Riviera, Cannes

PARIS, Dec. 4 (AP)—The government, armed with a new and drastic anti-strike law, made some dents today in the Communist-propagated strikes which have virtually strangled French economy, but confronted fresh violence on the Riviera.

A mob seized the postoffice in Cannes. Another throng was driven back by rifle butts and truncheons of mobile guards at the postoffice in Nice, where the Central Labor Committee called a general strike.

The government was striving to reopen struck mines. Rail traffic leaving Paris reached 80 per cent of normal and some commerce was coming through the Atlantic ports.

Conditions along the Mediterranean coast were so critical trials from Paris were proceeding only as far as Lyon.

MAY RAISE SALARIES

Premier Schuman's cabinet considered raising salaries of public employees.

The National Assembly beat down Communist opposition before dawn and passed Schuman's law redefining sabotage and increasing penalties.

In central and northern France, the back to work movement was gaining. Officials at Lille said only 4000 textile workers remained on strike compared to 125,000 a few days ago.

A new syndicate of metal workers was being formed in Paris, eliminating the Communists. Several automobile factories in the capital called their employees back to work tomorrow.

A mobile guard officer died in Paris from injuries of last week, raising to 22 the number of deaths since rioting and sabotage began more than two weeks ago when 20 French unions struck, asking 25 per cent wage increases.

MARSEILLE TIED UP

Traffic virtually was stopped in strike-bound Marseille. No ships were being unloaded because national guards, called out to work on the docks, were being held in readiness against an uprising.

The Geneva-Paris express was detained for three hours when strikers detached the engine and ran it into a siding near Bourgen-Bresse.

The government was expected to ease pickets under a provision of the new law which prohibits molesting persons desiring to work.

N. Y. Social Register Deals A Few Snubs

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Social Register, annual roster of New York's upper crust, was off the press today, listing a number of names that never made the glittering grade before, and giving the heave-ho to others who had been fixtures for years.

One of the top socialites dropped from the little volume, arbiter of social destinies, was Arline Judge, 4th, who married movie starlet

Mrs. O. Root, Jr. H. Cushing, 4th
Georgette Windsor. Cushing is a grandson of the late Reginald Vanderbilt.

Omitted also are George Vanderbilt, brother of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, previously dealt out of the listings, and Henry J. (Bob) Topping, who married actress Arline Judge after she had been divorced from his brother Dan.

Additions to the select circle include William S. Paley, head of the Columbia Broadcasting Co., who recently married Barbara Cushing Mortimer, and Daphne D. Skouras, bride of socialite Oren Root, Jr. Mrs. Root is the daughter of Spyros Skouras, head of 20th Century-Fox Film Corp.

Elliott Roosevelt, deleted last year, is the only Hyde Park Roosevelt remaining outside the fold. Roosevelt's wife is Faye Emerson of the movies.

HER YULE RUSH ON

CHRISTMAS, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Juanita Tucker, the Santa Claus of Christmas, is at it again.

Daily, now, packages of Christmas cards are arriving to be opened, stamped and mailed on whatever date the sender requests—to that the envelopes will bear the postmark "Christmas, Fla."

Mrs. Tucker, postmistress here since 1932, says her tiny post-office is fast approaching the prominence of Santa Claus, Ind., and Bethlehem, Pa., as a mailing point for cards.

"We do more business in one day during the rush season than all other days of the year combined," she said.

Begs Bail for Wife Held in Baby Killing

BROCKTON, Dec. 4—Loyally vowing she shall go free, a grief-stricken soldier-father today pleaded that his wife—accused of drowning her illegitimate baby two years ago—be admitted to bail so that she can come home to their three young children.

The mother, Mrs. Eleanor F. MacDonald, 29, is in Plymouth jail, held without bail after she sought unsuccessfully to plead guilty in district court to a charge of murder.

Cpl. Harry MacDonald, who obtained leave from Ft. Dix, N. J., when his wife wrote she was breaking under the strain of what happened in February, 1945, leaped to her defense as she murmured "guilty" to the charge.

"Don't accept that plea," he shouted in court. "I plead not guilty for her."

But their moments together were brief, for Mrs. MacDonald was sent to jail and MacDonald returned home to care for their three daughters, Joan, Sandra, and Ruth.

BROTHER-IN-LAW HELD

Since then, the soldier has haunted police and other authorities in hope his wife can be admitted to bail.

Also held in connection with disposal of the baby's body, allegedly drowned in a pail of water immediately after birth, was Mrs. MacDonald's brother-in-law, Arthur M. Silva. Bail was set at $500 as a material witness.

Cpl. MacDonald said at the Crescent st. home of his sister, Mrs. Louise Maguire, the three children have been taken out of town for the time being. He said:

"I am going to stick by my wife. I have only pity for her. I fully understand her predicament and the suffering she endured while I was away. I hope that under the circumstances the court will have compassion for her. She has been punished enough. I want only the chance to have her back and move out of the state eventually, so we can all begin over again."

Mrs. MacDonald is scheduled to go on trial here Jan. 7 on an additional charge of concealing the birth of an illegitimate child.

MacDonald came racing home to Brockton after his conscience-stricken wife had written to him

MRS. E. MacDonald, 29
Held in Slaying of Infant

about what had allegedly happened two years ago while he was away in service.

He had sought solace and advice from his chaplain and the provost marshal at Ft. Dix before coming to make a clean breast of his and his wife's troubles to Dist. Atty Edmund R. Dewing. The arrest of Mrs. MacDonald and her brother-in-law followed.

According to the story by Police Capt. D. Edward Sullivan, the mother gave birth to a baby—conceived as a result of an attack by two soldiers—while she was staying at the Thayer st. home of her sister and Silva. It is alleged she gave birth to the baby without aid and then concealed the body in the cellar after drowning it in a pail of water. It was a month later that the remains were taken from the cellar and stuffed down a sewer, according to the investigators.

State Case Near End In Cop Murder Trial

The government called its remaining witnesses today in the trial of Russell Swenson of Roxbury, charged with second degree murder, armed robbery and burglary, after an accusing sister-in-law had screamed out in hysteria in Suffolk Superior Court.

Mrs. Margaret Butler of Bilerica swayed and nearly fell to the floor when, under questioning by defense counsel, she admitted same case and are now serving life sentences.

A fourth man, Joseph E. McEachern, was found not guilty of murder at that time but this October pleaded guilty to burglary charges and was sentenced to five to seven years. A fifth man, Bowie Moore, is still being sought by authorities.

Mrs. Butler's testimony verged on the sensational all through yesterday's session as, in response to questioning by Asst. Dist. Atty. Frederick T. Doyle, she related what she alleged her brother-in-law had told her of the crime and his part in it.

"He said he was in Metz's house," she testified. "He said he hit Metz. He said he got out of the house the back way."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Doyle asked her "Did he tell you who else was in on the job?"

NAMED ACCOMPLICES

"Goudas, Fritz Swenson, McEachern and Bowie Moore," she replied.

"He said Moore got creased (wounded) in the house."

Later, she testified, McEachern came to the house and told Russell that the police were looking for them. They both left hurriedly, she said.

Under cross-examination, she said she had given her original statement to police last April 14 and that she had volunteered it. Defense Atty. William R. Scharton said:

"You volunteered it because you didn't like Russell. You're not only sore against Russell Swenson, but you accused him at one time of raping your daughter."

"I won't answer that," Mrs. Butler screamed and then went into hysterics.

When she recovered, the question was put to her again and she said, "Yes, I did."

MRS. MARGARET BUTLER

she once had accused Swenson of criminally attacking her daughter. She had testified the latter had admitted to her that he was one of five men who burglarized a Fayette st., South End, home where a police sergeant was shot to death.

All charges result from the burglary of Eugene L. Metz's Fayette st. apartment on Oct. 2, 1946, during which Sgt. William F. Healey was killed.

Swenson's brother, Fritz, and William Goudas, both of Roxbury, were found guilty of second degree murder last April in the Bank Runs, Panic Buying Upset Russian Economy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—Reports of "panic buying" and impending currency changes in Soviet Russia have reached Washington and been given sufficient official credence to be broadcast around the world by the government's "Voice of America" radio.

The State Department's broadcast in 23 languages last night said the wave of buying had been touched off by widespread rumors of prospective price increases and devaluation of the Russian ruble.

The rush to trade paper money for durable goods at stores in Moscow and other cities, the broadcast said, is reported to have swelled to such proportions that some establishments in the Soviet capital have been forced to close.

Reports to authorities here, supplementing the one on which the broadcast was based, also hinted at further trouble for the tightly managed Soviet economy.

Heavy runs to withdraw savings from banks, these reports related, have resulted in an order to limit individual withdrawals to 200 rubles daily.

OBSERVERS CAUTIOUS

These spectacular reports—coming out of Russia itself—gave such a sudden new twist to the Kremlin's relations with the rest of the world that diplomats here were cautious in weighing the likely effects.

Moscow's unceasing propaganda against American plans to aid western Europe has hammered at the theme that (A) the capitalist United States is headed for an inevitable depression while (B) the Soviet economy is secure.

Now, however, there appear to be grave doubts among the Russian people themselves.

Detailed accounts reaching Washington said the residents of Moscow seemed to consider as true rumors that the Kremlin would decree a new currency tomorrow and that later new and higher prices would be ordered into effect.

BLOW TO SAVINGS

Any scaling down of the value of the ruble or raising prices for consumer goods would be a harsh blow to savings. Together, such actions would have the same effect as inflation in the forms made familiar in China and other countries.

There, inflation is measured in terms of foreign currencies and prices have assumed astronomical proportions.

In Russia, however, the ruble

Harried State House Clerks Wrestle With 2284 New Bills

State House clerks began whipping into final form today 2284 proposals for the consideration of the incoming House and Senate during the 1948 legislative session which begins Jan. 7.

The 1830 bill filed in the House and the 454 submitted to the Senate include hundreds of hardy perennials doomed for speedy rejection as well as many new ideas assured of lengthy discussion and possible enactment into law.

Newcomers of significance include the community property tax bill to save Bay Staters $100,000 a year, bills to raise salaries of teachers, and proposals for alleviation of traffic congestion in Greater Boston.

Veterans' housing will come in for attention, as well as bills to increase revenue from race tracks. Current concern over the increasing divorce rate was reflected in proposals calling for changes in the divorce laws.

DIVORCE CHECK

The divorce problem was covered by bills filed by Reps. William X. Wall (D.) of Lawrence, and Frank D. McCarthy (R.) of Medfield.

Wall's bill provides a two-year "cooling off" period before either party to a Massachusetts divorce would be allowed to re-marry.

McCarthy's bill would establish a division of domestic relations in each Massachusetts probate court to hear all uncontested cases.

Another bill filed by McCarthy would provide a comprehensive study of the divorce laws in the Commonwealth and other states by a legislative recess commission.

A community property tax bill, bearing the signature of Atty. Gen. Clarence A. Barnes was introduced by Rep. James Condon of South Boston.

A bill calling for a complete revision of the entire tax structure of the state was filed by the Associated Industries of Massachusetts.

Three labor regulations bills, including one to outlaw the closed shop, were sponsored by the Massachusetts Citizens' Union.

TUNNEL FOR BRIDGE

The measures also call for requiring that no strike be authorized except by a majority secret ballot of union members and provide that voting for union officers be by secret ballot only.

Rep. Logan R. Dickie (R.) of Reading filed various bills to increase horse racing taxes by one-half of one per cent and also to increase dog track taxes. He said his bills would increase the state revenues from racing by $1,500,000.

A bill calling for the construction of a tunnel under the Mystic river instead of a high level toll bridge, was filed by Rep. Jeremiah F. Brennan of Charlestown, who declared his proposal would save 500 families from eviction.

Experimental UMT Unit Poll Shows Men Approve of Idea

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Army said today that 72 per cent of the universal military trainees at Ft. Knox, Ky., think the experimental unit "is a good idea."

The official publication Army Information Digest gave this as the finding of a poll of the 600 voluntary regular Army recruits made by research experts of the information and education division.

The Ft. Knox unit is being used as an experimental and demonstration unit in connection with the armed forces' proposal for a universal military trainings program.

The poll was taken at the end of the first six months of training. Here is what the Army said it showed:

One hundred per cent of the officers, 1 per cent of the training cadre (instructors who are non-commissioned officers and technicians), and 72 per cent of the trainees approved the program.

Ninety per cent of the officers would volunteer for duty in a national UMT program; two out of three of the cadre would volunteer.

Ninety-one per cent of the trainees believed the training would make them good soldiers.

X-Rays Planned On Siamese Twins

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 4 (AP)

Physicians at the Indiana University Medical Center planned today to make X-ray pictures of the brains of the Speer sisters, Siamese twins joined at the tops of their heads.

Dr. Donald Cassel, medical director of the center, said the babies, born Saturday, are joined by a bone three inches in diameter located at normal "soft spots" of their heads. Physicians have expressed hope that a separation operation will be possible.

The mother, Mrs. Edward R. Speer, learned only yesterday that they were joined.

Her physician, Dr. Ben Spehger, said she was greatly shocked but was recovering from the effects of a Caesarian section.

Teen-Age Quartet In Spending Orgy On Stolen $5000

Four teen-aged boys amazed Malden police early today by telling how they lifted $5000 from an open safe which contained $9000. They found the treasure in a Malden barn and for the past three weeks have been living a story-book existence.

The youngsters, ranging in age from 13 to 16, were picked up by detectives at their homes and about $2000 of the missing cash was located. After a complete confession by the boys, police found $4000 untouched in the safe.

In one instance the youngsters came to the aid of a faltering romance, but their chivalry went awry when Leonard J. Lubinski, 19, Swan st., Malden, was arraigned in district court today on a charge of receiving stolen goods—$540 allegedly given him by the quartet to buy an engagement ring for the girl he wanted to marry.

Lubinski pleaded not guilty before Judge Elbridge G. Davis and was held in $1000 for a hearing Wednesday. Police Capt. Joseph B. Henry said the quartet had given him the money in sums of $350, $80, $60 and $50.

The four youngsters appeared in court later and were released in the custody of their parents for arraignment in juvenile court Wednesday.

How much was squandered by the quartet in their spree and how much more hidden away was not learned immediately, but police said their spending rivalled that of big city playboys.

The boys split up $5000 of the $9000 and left more than $4000 when they discovered a big safe in the shed attached to the Oak Grove Laundry, Sterling st., behind the Pearl st. stadium. Owner of the laundry and the safe, Staarr Hall, was unaware of the thefts.

DISCOVERED SAFE

Police said the big strongbox was not tampered with and that the boys in their prowling around after school one afternoon merely came upon the safe and found it was "easy pickings."

The laundry strongbox proved an "Aladdin's lamp," and since mid-November the gang has not only bought anything that struck their fancy, but other Malden youngsters have been treated to boyhood desires.

Police said all four boys come from good homes and none has ever been in trouble before.

Their downfall came, police said, when one youth turned to gambling and made a wager which paid him a $400 prize. He displayed the cash at home and his parents decided they should keep the money for him, although neither parent doubted the lad's story he had been lucky in "a raffle."

The youngster angrily protested the decision of his parents, and he telephoned police to come to the house and protect him and his winnings, officers at Malden police station said.

During their free-spending days, the lads hired an automobile for a trip to New Hampshire, apparently as a joy ride.

SHOPPING SPREE

Other funds were wasted on clothing, jewelry for themselves, motion pictures, stage shows in Boston, dining in expensive restaurants, and casual purchases of whatever items in show windows caught their eyes.

When they first discovered the unlocked safe, according to their story to police, they decided to take only $25. A few days later they were back for $75.

These minor thefts went unnoticed by the laundry company, and the boys decided on a killing, police said, adding that they admitted returning to the barn two weeks ago and taking $4900 in bills.

River Plunge Death Laid to Old Accident

A dizzy spell, aftermath of an automobile accident several months ago in England, tentatively was blamed today for the death of William H. Erbb, 53, of Kent st., Scituate, former New England manager for Paramount Pictures, whose automobile went out of control and plunged into the Charles river in Brighton.

Relatives said the movie executive never had fully recovered from the accident.

Witnesses said his machine shot out from traffic on Soldiers field rd., crossed a field and dropped into 20 feet of water.

Medical Examiner William H. Brickley ordered an autopsy.

The victim was brought from his sunken machine an hour after the car made the fatal plunge near the River st. bridge. More than 2000 persons gathered to watch firemen and police retrieve the body.

The car was found lying on its side by William Buckley, diver for Rescue Co. No. 2 of the Boston fire dept.

Erbb had an international reputation as a film distributor. He was New England manager for Paramount until a year ago when he resigned to become general manager in Great Britain of Selznick International Pictures.

Erbb's body was identified by Arnold Van Lear, publicity and advertising manager of the Paramount Distributing Co. in New England.

Erbb's wife, Ruth, was notified by Van Lear of the accident.

Rescuers Nearing Wrecked C-47

FRANKFURT, Dec. 4 (AP)—ground rescue parties battled snow, fog and dense woods today in an effort to reach the spot where an American C-47 transport plane, missing since Friday with 20 persons aboard, is believed to have crashed in the French zone of Germany.

A 50-foot line of fire—apparently burning oil—was observed last night by rescue aircraft 15 miles northwest of Kaiserslautern.

An advance ground rescue party was last reported about two miles from its objective.

The body of little Neil Ellis Wartnik, born last Jan. 24, was found in bed in the blood-spattered nine-room Wartnik home in the exclusive Toluca Lake district.

Thirty miles away, attendants of a Hermosa Beach hotel found the body of his mother, Mrs. Lena Mae Wartnik, 30, former model. The estranged husband, Sam Wartnik, 45, sportswear manufacturer, was in San Francisco and is believed en route here.

The Wartniks were married in Las Vegas, Nev., May 19, 1945, separated Nov. 9 and he filed a divorce suit Nov. 24, alleging Mrs. Wartnik drank to excess.

Wartnik had obtained an order on Mrs. Wartnik to appear tomorrow in superior court to show cause why he should not be given custody of the child.

Det. Lt. Edward W. Smith said there were no cuts on the child's body and he may have been smothered or strangled. Police Chief Jack Harlow of Hermosa Beach said there were superficial cuts on Mrs. Wartnik's wrists and body and that he had found an empty pill box and bottle in the hotel room closet.

Autopsies were ordered. Smith estimated the body had been dead two days. Associates of Wartnik broke into the house at suggestion of his lawyer, W. O. Graf, who told investigators he had received a letter from Mrs. Wartnik saying she didn't want Wartnik's money because "where I'm going I won't need any money."

Near the fully-clothed body of the mother, who registered at the hotel Monday, Harlow said, was a note saying "Bleeding to death is so slow but I do want my baby buried in my arms."

Smith said a note found in the house read in part: "Sam, this summons is my reward for standing by you through thick and thin. So I'm doing it, and taking my sweet, precious Neil with me." possessions.

WIDOW, DIVORCEE?

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Florence Graham Grosseck wants the Philadelphia Common Pleas court to declare her the widow of a man killed in the Philippine Islands rather than a divorcee.

Mrs. Grosseck, who is remarried, told the court her first husband, PFC Kenneth R. Graham, 29, was killed the day before her divorce decree was signed.

She seeks to benefit under Graham's National Service Life Insurance.

Mrs. Grosseck said the record shows Graham died at 2 a. m. April 30, 1945, the day the decree was signed, but because the Philippines are beyond the International Date Line, Graham died on April 29, Philadelphia time.

'Jockey' Is Held On Theft Charge

Jacob Greenberg, 27, Ellington st., Dorchester, who allegedly posed as a jockey with hot tips, was arrested in a Brookline hotel early today and charged with attempted larceny of $1000 from Joseph F. Fallon, Jr., proprietor of a liquor store in Boylston st., Brookline.

Police said Greenberg showed Fallon a picture of a man dressed as a jockey, claimed it was himself and said he needed $1000 to go south for the racing season there and that Fallon could triple his investment on the hot tips.

Fallon told the alleged jockey to meet him later in the hotel and then called police, who made the arrest just as Greenberg was about to accept a $1000 check from the liquor store owner.

Hijack Hoaxer To Get Mental Test

Romeo W. Vigeant, 23, Moody ave., Lowell, perpetrator of a $60,000 hijack hoax, was sent to Boston Psychopathic Hospital today for 20 days observation by order of Somerville Judge Charles F. Gadsby.

Vigeant, who gave the name of William Reagan, pleaded guilty of vagrancy. He was found in a field off Butler dr., Somerville, early yesterday in a comatose state.

He originally told police and FBI agents two men had slugged and robbed him of a truck carrying $60,000 in cigars, but later admitted he had concocted the story to gain sympathy and publicity in the hope of a job.

RECOUNT IN GLOUCESTER

GLOUCESTER, Dec. 4.—Defeated by 414 votes, John J. Burke, Jr., said today he will seek a recount of the balloting in which Mayor Weston U. Friend was re-elected for a fifth term. There were 8668 votes cast.

Curley Asks Truman Free Jailed Vets for Christmas

President Truman and every member of both branches of Congress today received from Mayor Curley an appeal for a general amnesty for Christmas to thousands of World War veterans serving Federal prison terms for minor offenses.

Boston's mayor described the latter as frustrated, bewildered, helpless and bitter at their government.

He stated that it was not his aim to release those who deserted in the face of the enemy or those found guilty of major crimes, but added he was concerned for 100,000 men who were sentenced for offenses which were understandable.

"Many of them (service men) were mustered into the service while under 21 years of age. A large percentage had never before been away from their homes. It was a new experience to them," he said in his letter to the President.

"They were disturbed, alarmed and terribly frightened. They had been suddenly taken away from home restraint and home influence, and yet, their love of home, their parents and their loved ones permeated their souls.

"Perhaps, because of this fact, upon learning that a father or mother was dangerously ill, and denied the right to go back home, many went, as the saying goes, 'over the hill,' to be there when the grim specter of death was hovering over their loved ones.

"For this they went to military prisons and were later transferred to federal penitentiaries."

Curley added that every nation engaged in World War II, save the United States, has granted amnesty to veterans.

Retailers Ask $1-2 Billion Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (INS)—The National Retail Dry Goods Ass'n asked Congress today to slash $5,500,000,000 immediately from the tax burden chiefly through reducing income taxes up to 25 per cent.

The association's immediate and long-range programs were presented to the House ways and means committee by Arthur R. Kaiser, general manager of the tax department of Sears, Roebuck and Co., and a member of the dry goods taxation committee.

Kaiser recommended income taxes immediately be cut 25 per cent on taxable incomes of $2000 or less and 10 per cent on all taxable incomes over that amount.

In a long range view, Kaiser said the top tax rate in any bracket should not exceed 50 per cent.

VA GULL SHY
SEATTLE, Dec. 4 (AP)—Bulletin No. 139 of the Seattle regional office of the Veterans' Administration, titled "Feeding of Sea Gulls," reads:

"It has come to the attention of this office that VA employees have been placing food on window sills for the purpose of attracting sea gulls. This practice results in distraction from their regular work."

"Effective immediately, no VA employee will place any items on window sills which might attract sea gulls."

The association's immediate program also suggested:

Repeal of wartime excise taxes except on liquor and tobacco; retention of present personal exemptions; all income of husbands and wives should be taxed as community property; credit individuals for taxes paid on corporation income; eliminate tax on intercorporate dividends; remove the penalty tax of two per cent for filing of consolidated returns; carry net losses forward only, but for a five-year period.

Anderson Assails New Tax Dodge

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Agriculture Department appealed to Congress and the Internal Revenue Bureau today to help stamp out shady transactions on the commodity exchanges by Americans and wealthy refugees seeking to dodge income taxes.

Agriculture Secretary Anderson charged that an examination of accounts Aug. 30 showed 646 traders with holdings of $150,000,000 involved in deals "indicating a purpose in most cases to affect tax liability."

5 Top Nazis

NUERNBERG, Dec. 4 (AP)—A U. S. military tribunal today announced the conviction of the top five of 14 former officials in the Nazi ministry of justice on trial since March 5 on war crimes charges.

Verdicts on the others and the sentences of all convicted, which may be death, were to be announced later.

Those convicted:

Franz Schlegelberger, former acting German minister of justice and the main defendant.

State Secretaries Herbert Klemm, a friend of the missing Martin Bormann, and Kurt Rothenburger, who rose to legal importance under the Nazi regime.

Ernst Lautz, chief prosecutor in the notorious people's court of Berlin, which tried treason cases. He was convicted for handling the cases of foreigners under Hitler's "night and fog" decree which was directed at suppressing resistance to the Nazis in occupied countries

REMOTE INJURY

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4 (AP)—Edwin Grash was injured in the collision of three cars, although he was on a ladder a half block from the crash.

Policeman Edward Kennedy said a car collided with another automobile and a taxicab, then one car continued on, striking the ladder on which Grash was standing to repair a screen.

None of the three drivers was injured, Kennedy said, but Grash was detained in a hospital for observation.

by spiriting civilians into Germany for secret trial.

Wolfgang Mettgenberg, German authority on international law, accused of helping to carry out the "night and fog" decree.

The three-man court was made up of Judges James T. Brand of Salem, Ore.; Mallory B. Blair of Austin, Tex., and Justin W. Harding of Franklin, O.

The court condemned the defendants in sharp language and dismissed defense pleas that they acted under orders of senior officers and coercion from Hitler.

TO DIE, CANTON, CHINA, FIRE HONGKONG, Dec. 4 (AP)—Ten persons were killed and 20 shops destroyed in a waterfront fire in Canton last night.

Truman Basks In Florida Sun

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP)—A tired President Truman sought today to catch up on his sleep as he settled down to a weekend of loafing at this sun-bathed naval submarine base. He got off to a good start yesterday when he, in naval parlance, "hit the sack" for more than two hours shortly after flying here from Washington.

Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, Mr. Truman's physician, pronounced the President in good physical trim, four pounds under top weight, but tired from strenuous work of the past few weeks. He wants the President to get "about 48 hours sleep" during his five days here.

Thieves Utilize Truck In $5000 Clothing Haul

Thieves who operated on a wholesale scale drove a truck up to the rear door of the Joseph Malenza tailoring company in Waltham st., Lexington, and carried out 80 suits and six topcoats valued at $5000.

The theft was carried out in full view of passengers waiting for a Waltham-bound bus. It came to light when an unidentified woman thought over the occurrence during the ride home and telephoned police. Thieves entered by forcing the front door.

Dies as Mate Is Held for Arson

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Celeste Millarg, 22-year-old mother of a boy born two months ago, was found dead in the living room of her parents' home, five hours after her husband had been held without bail on a charge of arson.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fisher, told deputy coroner Robert Yost their daughter collapsed last night in a living room chair where she had been sitting without speaking after returning from her husband's hearing in Central Police Court.

At the hearing, Rudolph Millarg, 24, who gave an address in Merchantville, N. J., was arraigned on a charge of arson in connection with three recent fires in the headquarters of the Philadelphia County Council of the American Legion.

Yost said the cause of Mrs. Millarg's death was not determined.

AUTOPSY ON BURNED BODY

PLYMOUTH, N. H., Dec. 4 (AP)—An autopsy to determine positive identification and the cause of death was scheduled to-day on the body of a man found burned beyond recognition in a razed cabin near here.

Hearing Set In Fatal Fire Truck Crash

Fire Comr. Codman announced today a formal hearing would be held Monday in an effort to determine the cause of the crash of Boston's "jinx" ladder truck, which caused the death of one fireman and injured four other persons in South Boston yesterday.

Codman said the survivors of the latest accident involving the $30,000 truck all were expected to attend the hearing. The truck, blamed for the deaths of six firemen in an East Boston blaze in 1942, was so badly damaged it will never be used again.

As Codman announced the hearing, Chief Napeen Boutillier said no cause as yet had been determined for the crash.

He said he planned to question the four survivors later today about the crash, which took the life of Fireman Joseph H. Sullivan, World War II veteran and father of two children.

The three injured firemen, Arthur Spacone, 29, East Third st.; Joseph Babb, 35, East Fifth st., South Boston, and Frank Daoley, 26, Second st., South Boston, were released after treatment at City Hospital.

The fourth injured man, William Miller, 21, McCreavey way, South Boston, an air brake technician, was released from the hospital today.

Miller said the truck, operated by Babb, had swayed to the left just before the accident.

They stopped and adjusted the brakes, and made another test while travelling at 40-miles-an-hour speed, he added.

"I felt the tiller swinging at the back," Miller said. "I turned around and saw Sullivan frantically waving for the driver to stop. Babb put on the emergency brake and the truck turned over twice. That's all I remember."

Swedish Dentist Tells of Healing Decayed Teeth Like Body Wound

14 STOCKHOLM, Dec. 4 (AP)—A new method of healing decayed teeth like a body wound, whereby the teeth grow new enamel, has been announced by a Swedish dentist, Sten For-shufvud of Gothenburg, after several years of research. The report on the new method, which shortly will be published in Sweden, has not yet been studied by dental authorities, but

Prof. G. Wenstén of the Dental Institute said: "If correct, the report is one of the most sensational ever published in the realm of odontology."

Dr. Forshufvud, who began his research on biological dental healing in 1937, said he used "pieces of teeth of oxen, freed from most of their organic substance," as a filling for cavities. "Nature does the rest," he added.

Dr. Forshufvud said that "the mineral bandage" acts as a support or scaffolding, through which reticular fibers grow, thereby restoring nutrition in the wound area. The mineral bandage is gradually resorbed, while at the same time human enamel is built up. The mineral material from oxen's teeth is retained in its place for the same reason which keeps the edges of a wound together; the blood plasma keeps it there, the dentist said.

He does not use any surface support for the filling but said this might improve the method.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover about the real cause of their trouble may be kidney trouble. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and wastes out of the blood. They help most people pass a bowl of urine a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of sleep and energy, aching up spine, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a kidney medicine, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will keep the 18 miles of kidney tubes fresh and free from waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

New Look Doubles Alimony for Wife

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4 (AP) —The "New Look" and what it did to Mrs. Vivian du Bois Wilkerson's wardrobe came under judicial scrutiny here.

"Half my clothes aren't long enough," she wailed, testifying about her demand for $800 a month temporary alimony from William B. Wilkerson, 57, Hollywood publisher and cafe owner.

"Didn't you tell me you had clothes to last a year or more?" demanded Wilkerson's lawyer, Greg Bautzer.

"That was before I took stock," she protested. "You know very well I've had to let down hems on all my clothes." Judge Fred Miller listened to Bautzer's suggestion that $300 a month was enough for Mrs. Wilkerson, 31, actress and model, but awarded her $600 a month pending trial of her divorce suit.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

FOR SOME WEEKS, we have been dealing with the movies; let us now turn to book reviews. This has become quite a business in recent years, some newspapers running a daily book review column by a sort of book columnist who pretends to read the most massive and erudite volumes in the course of an afternoon. That it cannot be done is obvious; for instance, Du Nouy's "Human Destiny" cannot be read like a Rex Stout murder novel.

I recently came across a review of Freda Utley's "Last Chance at China," by Harold R. Isaacs. Apparently, the editor of the "New York Times Book Review" operates like a Town Hall debate, getting someone who dislikes a book and its author to give the other side. Differing from the Town Hall, however, he permits no rebuttal, making it possible for an antagonistic reviewer to kill a book.

Now, Freda Utley is a well-informed lady, an ex-Communist who has lived in Russia and China and knows what she is talking about.

SO, ISAACS SAYS that Utley's point of view is: "... She believes that no present evil in the world, like the Greek monarchy, the Turkish dictatorship, or a corrupt Chinese officialdom, is comparable to the Russian evil; that nothing was more naive than the notions that led Pres. Roosevelt at Yalta to sign an agreement that launched Russia on its new drive for power in Asia..."

With that he disagrees. His view is: "We can share Miss Utley's urgent fear of Russian totalitarianism. But it is more difficult to see how we are going to exorcise the menace by joining hands with the Chiang Kai-shek and Chen Li-fu of China or of any country. If these are the only possible allies of democracy, then Miss Utley's, too, is a program for darkness."

In other words, he holds that the United States can afford to pick and choose its allies and not use what is at hand. He makes the further point that Freda Utley says that it might cost us $15,000,000,000 to support Chiang. She actually said that $3,000,000,000 or $4,000,000,000 would probably suffice. She does make the point, however, that China's importance to us is so great that $10,000,000,000 or $15,000,000,000 would not be too great a cost. "I have my own doubts about all these billions just as I have my doubts about billions for Europe."

MR. ISAACS DOES NOT FAVOR Chiang Kai-shek. Whom he does favor does not appear in his review, but the editor of the "New York Times Book Review," needing to decorate his page, to make it lively and attractive to the reader, fills it out with a photograph of "Soldiers of the Chinese Communist Army," who look like any other Chinese soldiers, neither better nor worse. He could have used a photograph of the Chinese government's army against whom these boys are in rebellion. They would have looked about the same.

On the same page is a review of "Danger From The East," by Richard E. Lauterbach—a book that I have not read. It apparently is a violent attack on Gen. MacArthur, who has done a grand job in Japan. Friends of mine, Japanese in Japan, some of whom I have known for a quarter of a century or more, have written to me to tell me of the wonders that Gen. MacArthur has performed in and for their country. According to the reviewer, Robert Shaplen, this is what he gets out of Lauterbach's book:

"We have forgotten that Japan is basically a world problem," Lauterbach writes, "and we have made her 'a colony.' The Emperor is still revered, his throne now shared by MacArthur..."

I can survive without reading Lauterbach.

Military Control Of Atomic Weapons

THE JOINT COMMITTEE of Congress, established for the purpose of recommending national policy in the matter of atomic energy controls, has taken the first steps to repair the grievous mistake made by Congress in this vital field when nearly absolute controls were vested in civilian rather than military agencies of the government.

The committee is preparing to support amendments to the Atomic Energy Control Act which will restore to the establishments of national defense the power to develop atomic weapons for use in future warfare, which is the only practicable use for atomic energy at the present time and probably in any foreseeable time.

This essential power was held exclusively by the armed forces of the Government during the war, and it contributed substantially to the shortening of the war and materially to the winning of the war.

There has never been anything more than an anxious peace since the war, and there has now ceased to be any real peace in the world and little realistic hope for peace, with a so-called COLD WAR resulting from the political intrigues and economic conquests and military aggressions of Soviet Russia.

IN THE INTERVAL immediately following the war, the Congress of the United States was a hold-over from the New Deal Administration which had been a party to Russian intrigues and conquests and aggressions by consenting to them.

It was still our national policy to promote peace with Russia by appeasement. The all-civilian Atomic Energy Commission created by Congress was frankly a gesture of appeasement.

That was the era when the "share the bomb" propaganda was at its peak in the United States, and the Atomic Energy Commission created by Congress—composed entirely of civilians, and with military authorities wholly excluded—was the product of that propaganda.

But it was soon realized that appeasement did not buy peace with Russia, and that any proposal to share the atomic bomb with Russia or to disclose the secrets of atomic energy to Russia would be an act of folly on our part, leading to inevitable war with Russia and to our grave injury, if not to our ultimate and total destruction.

For Russia, even without atomic weapons at her disposal, has unceasingly and ruthlessly conducted political and economic and military aggressions throughout Europe and Asia. And the American people are grimly aware that our superiority in atomic weapons is the only thing that has deterred Russia from aggression against the United States.

ATOMIC ENERGY CONTROLS should never have been taken away from the armed forces of the United States. The Congress of the United States was utterly wrong in committing that act of deprival.

It was surely not our national interest which was thus served.

Atomic energy is exclusively an INSTRUMENT OF WAR in its present stage of development, and the authority and responsibility for its future development should rest exclusively with the military agencies charged with the safety and security of the country.

Congress, having made a potentially tragic MISTAKE in this respect, should not PERSIST in that error.

Only the military authorities of the United States know the full military capacities of atomic weapons, and the most efficient military uses of atomic energy.

The atomic superiority we now enjoy is the potent fruit of their knowledge.

The only way the United States can RETAIN ATOMIC SUPERIORITY, and thus preserve its best hopes of future peace and security, is to recognize atomic weapons as military instruments and to make their control a matter of MILITARY AUTHORITY AND RESPONSIBILITY.

IN MANHATTAN is a dancing school specializing in teaching women to "follow." For some time this has been one of the things America needed most. Most women believe themselves born ballroom dancers. If the smoothness of a dance is disturbed they blame the man. The fact is, more dances are ruined by women who do not know how to follow than by awkward or inept men. The lack of the knowledge of melting into a male partner's arm and being no more burden to him than a lightweight feather, is what causes so much dissension between man and wife dancers. Many wives not only do not know how to follow; they try to lead. That is dynamite on a dance floor. Study your wife's dancing. If she blames you for lack of smoothness check on her ability to follow. If she doesn't know how to follow send her to dancing school.

BEST ACTRESSES. James Mason, British actor, says the five best American actresses are Bette Davis, Lena Horne, Greta Garbo, Ingrid Bergman, and Dorothy McGuire. I agree only as to Garbo, and Bergman. And, furthermore, I think Wendy Hill can act rings around all five of them.

Lena Horne

ASIDES: Over seven million Americans have been married twice. It was Dr. Johnson who said second marriage is the "triumph of hope over experience" ... In England a clergyman can officiate at his own marriage. But, of course, this requires he do some talking to himself. That's not so good. Time enough for that after marriage.

PLEASE NOTE: Note in the classified: "Baby watching by responsible married man." Very interesting. That man must have a broad-minded wife. How would your wife like you to spend your evenings watching other women's babies? Also noted an ad reading: "Women! Have your favorite girdle repaired." In a way that's news to me. I didn't know women had "favorite girdles." I thought they were all the same. That is, either all viewed with affection or all with dislike. This is a rather intimate matter, but the more you know about horses or women the better you will understand them. So, gentlemen, if some woman snaps at you or tosses some irritated conversation in your direction, don't judge her too harshly. She may just be uncomfortable because she is not wearing her favorite girdle.

PASSING BY: Jimmy Stewart. Elongated Hollywood heart-throb. Had a brilliant war record. It is said that Jimmy on two occasions led the entire Eighth Air Force on bomber missions. On these missions he was responsible for 12,000 men ... Fred Astaire. Debonair dancer. Also king of one-horse stable owners. His only horse, Triplicate, has already won $273,000 and is still going strong. Fred thinks his noble animal has a chance to win two $100,000 races at Santa Anita the coming season: the Maturity Stakes and the Santa Anita Handicap.

SIDELIGHTS: The minimum wage for bartenders in New York is $5 a week. But most of them receive $75 a week plus tips ... There are 15,000,000 children under 6 years of age in the U. S. A. Try to think of something not yet on the market that could be sold to parents of youngsters of 6 and under and your fortune is made. I would do it myself. But if I became too rich there would be no fun in playing my racing system.

TAXI DRIVERS: London. England, taxi drivers are paid 33 1/3 per cent of what the meter registers. New York taxi skippers get around 40 per cent. In some other U. S. cities they get as high as 49 per cent. There are no woman taxi drivers in London. I believe there are only nine feminine taxi drivers in New York city.

THAT DOG AGAIN: A rabbit steepe 20 times a day. So states a man of science. If I told that great rabbit enthusiast, our dog, about this he would probably say, if he could say anything: "And so, what? I sleep that many times a day myself." And indeed he does. Next to eating and chasing rabbits I believe sleeping is his favorite sport.

BRIEFLY: Note it reported New York city has an all-dancers' orchestra. Which, of course, brings to mind Philadelphia has an all-lawyers' orchestra.

"Hello, Dave—I hear you're working in a bank these days!"

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright 1947, King Features Syndicate

NEW YORK, Dec. 4—A hostile agent with intent to unmask the boss politicians of the Teamsters' Union and to make them appear ridiculous and mean could not conjure more effective bombast than they proudly publish in their journals.

The ignorance expressed in some of the royal and imperial bulls of Dan Tobin, the "International" president, is artless.

Dave Beck of Seattle, Tobin's assigned protector Westbrook Pegler in the northwestern province, has the sense to employ professional talent in mixing the hogwash published in his Washington Teamster. Tobin edits his own International Teamster. Dave is the aspirant to Tobin's throne.

Tobin thought Dave seemed a little too eager, when, last winter, Beck sprinkled himself with glory as the forward-looking leader who called off the vandal goons in the Oakland general strike.

Tobin had already called them off and was home awaiting sweet acclaim when word came that Beck was the man of the hour. Tobin's own message had been held up while Beck beat him to the streets with the order to the beasts to cease and desist.

BUT BECK, a master apple shiner, goose-greased him with flattery. Then last August the union held, in San Francisco, its great international convention of dukes, princes and barons, come from near and far on lavish expense accounts.

With Old Dan's blessing, Dave put through a constitutional amendment creating the special office of executive vice-president with plenary powers. That being done, Beck's only remaining uncertainty lay in the risk that Tobin might name someone else to this job.

Beck's campaign now was a course of outlandish adulation in his paper.

The Teamsters' convention ended on August 15. Tobin dabbled for the convention of the AFL, also in San Francisco from Oct. 6 to 10.

Up in Seattle, Beck's staff got busy in the manner of the maharajahs arranging great gorgings for the glory of the crown. Dave was steering his majesty up to the Northwest province and fixing to give him the royal works.

"Joint Council Plans Big Welcome for Pres. Tobin," said a head across the front of the Washington Teamster on Oct. 17.

ACTUALLY THERE were present about 350 head, mostly professional unioneers. The king-emperor's vanity was miffed, even though some rank and file were herded into other halls to listen to the old fellow's babble, piped by wire.

On Oct. 24, Dave really turned on the goose-grease. Page one was entirely devoted to features of Tobin.

The cut line called him the "honored guest." Final arrangements were "being checked." A "monster mass meeting" was "slated" for Thursday. And Mr. and Mrs. Tobin were "scheduled" to do this and that.

He didn't go sight-seeing in the usual way. He "inspected" the fruit packing sheds. He didn't "go" anywhere; he "proceeded." Movies were made of the imperial progress and presented to the crown for the archives of the dynasty.

"Tobin voiced the highest praise of Beck," we read in Beck's own sheet.

"Closing the meeting, Dave Beck paid great tribute to the national leadership of the union."

At last Tobin appointed Dave executive vice-president.

I HAVE HESITATED to remark that Tobin has not quite equalled Franklin D. Roosevelt's self-adulation with a memorial to himself while he still lives. I am not sure he hasn't planned it that way.

While thousands of Teamsters' wives are sending their children butterless to school, he is earnestly planning an imperial palace in Washington, to cost $3,000,000.

From the throne, Dan casually remarked that "one of the routine changes" was a constitutional amendment authorizing this extravagance.

IT DESOLATES ME not to have space to enable Old Dan to depict himself more fully. But I offer this selection from his own address to his convention as published in the October issue.

"Poverty and slavery is even worse. Our Journal, of which I have been editor since my inception into office, has had an outstanding place in the literature of the nation. The education that we endeavor to convey through its columns has been quite helpful not only to our members but to their wives and other members of their families."

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 4 (INS)—Ingrid Bergman is reading "The Heirress" in answer to an offer made her to star in the role Wendy Hiller created on the stage. In New York everyone raves about the play, but I was disappointed in Wendy Hiller, who was so wonderful in "Pygmalion." I thought her unprepossessing as the daughter of a fortune who was almost moribund—but I seem to be alone in that opinion.

Ingrid Bergman

Basil Rathbone, who plays her father, is excellent. A funny thing, he was at the Sherman Billingsley party for me, and he was having such a good time. He said, "I hate to leave, but I don't have a performance."

Next day he took his dogs out for a walk and fed, and had to miss two performances. The show did, indeed, close down until he was able to return.

JEFFREY LYNN was one of the last of the boys who went to war to get back into civilian life. He didn't return to Hollywood until August, 1946, and therefore was a little slow in being reconverted into civilian life. But now a break has come his way.

He has been signed to play opposite Dorothy Lamour in "Let's Fall in Love." Jeffrey plays a slave-driving movie director who is a perfectionist and very disliked. When Lamour becomes the amour of his life, everything is changed, and he builds her into a big star.

Jeffrey's doubly glad he's got a job now because, as we told you a few days ago, his wife expects a baby in June.

OUR OWN VINCENT FLAHERTY, of the LOS ANGELES EXAMINER writes one of the chattiest and best sports columns circulating today. Even though I don't always know the people he's writing about, I still enjoy Vince's comments and humor.

So, I'm not surprised that Hollywood is after the story he wrote on Walter Johnson in a baseball magazine. Vince and the great pitcher were inseparable pals when he was covering Washington, and he knew the late idol perhaps better than anyone outside Johnson's family. When Walter died last year, President Truman and members of the cabinet attended his funeral.

The producer out in front bidding for the story is Sam Wood, who would like to make it an independent.

BOB HIOPE flew into New York without any wardrobe, the only clothes he had were on his back. He gave them all away to people in England who had had no clothes since the war. So Mack Miller took him on a shopping tour, and if you don't think Bob is a goodwill ambassador, you should have seen the crowds. They stamped him shouting, "How's England, Bob? What did the King and Queen say? Seems everyone read Inez Robb's story about Bob and the laughs he gave the King and Queen."

Just what he is going to do about his radio contract will be decided later. I doubt very much if he will be permitted to leave—not with that Hooper rating.

CHATTER FROM LONDON: After a long-drawn-out separation of five years, Margaret Lockwood, England's top box-office star, is finally getting a divorce from her husband, Leon. (Don't confuse him with her business manager, Herbert De Leon—no relation.)

The reason the divorce was so long held up is that Leon refused to permit his popular wife to divorce him—hoping for a reconciliation. Her tangled marital status is one reason she never accepted an offer to come to Hollywood.

Now that everything is in the clear, there is no reason why she can't and won't take advantage of the many wonderful scripts submitted to her from time to time.

Everybody wants Vivien Leigh for a movie, but RKO is so hot on her trail for "The Captain Was a Lady" (that producer William Perceira leaves her Saturday to sail on the Queen Mary to try to get Vivien's signature on a contract.)

In these days of economy, movie companies aren't sending emissaries on wild goose chases unless there's really something up.

What happened is that Vivien read the script in London and is completely sold on it. What practically clinches it is that she wouldn't have to come to Hollywood next summer, as the picture will be shot in London and Scotland, and not until after she returns from Australia with the Old Vic company.

AROUND THE STUDIOS: Irene Wrightman, one of the prettiest girls in this town or any other, is being tested at M. G. M. with Mervyn LeRoy directing her.

That's a strike in her favor right there, having Mervyn LeRoy direct the camera. Irene is still very young, even Wrightman though she was married and divorced. Jean Wallace, Mrs. Franchot Tone in private life, has made an extensive test for one of the leads in "Dark Wood" opposite Mark Stevens.

Rumor has it that Warners are trying to buy Ann Sothern's contract from M. G. M., following her work in "April Showers." Ann wants to get out of the "Mamie" series, so it could be.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD collected at random: Rita Kaufman Lowe is a happy grandmother. Her son, Albert Kaufman, is father of a son born on Rita's birthday, Nov. 23. That makes Albert Kaufman, Sr., a granddad. My, my, how time flies!

The fans were lined up a foot deep at the Biltmore opening of "Angel Street." Why not?—with Gregory Peck and Laraine Day in the cast and so many stars in the audience to applaud them!

The Joseph Cottens came with Gretchen Peck and Joe sat with her. Charles Coburn got a terrific hand when he walked into the theater. He was with his friend and Teresa Helburn—at least, it looked like Teresa.

The Don de Foes were among the early arrivals. Charles Korvin also was there a full half-hour before curtain time.

Jack Oakie, responding with a red carnation and much added weight, came with Vicki Horne. Wonder if those two are going to get married?

Laraine Day gave a fine dramatic performance. I saw Judith Evelyn on the stage in New York in this part and I must say I thought Laraine even better as the frightened wife of Gregory. He was good enough to get a few hisses in his mezzanine moments when trying to get rid of friend wife.

Later many of the people at the first night went to Le Pavillon. Nan Wynne came and sat with me. She said I was the first one to give her good notices when she was at the Pump Room in Chicago. "And," she told me, "You said I was like Helen Morgan and I want to do that part on the screen." Well, she would be good. She certainly puts over a song.

Bruce Cabot was with Marilyn Walsh Phillips, Lorraine Walsh's pretty daughter. They were in a party with Anita Colby, her sisters and others. "Why," I asked Anita, "did you deny the story you yourself once put about Frank Ryan?" Anita just laughed.

Collier Young, Ida Lupino's fiancé, is very ill with intestinal flu.

Just what I'd expect of Tyrone Power. Even though he and Lana Turner have parted, he brought little Cheryl some beautiful gifts from Europe.

How touching! Johnny Weissmuller and Beryl Scott lunching at the Brown Derby and wearing the same sports coats.

DR. MARTIN SPELLMAN of that great Spellman family positively refuses to run for mayor of Boston (as we told you). But this column hears he would not refuse to run for Governor (as a Democrat, naturally). As we understand it, he thinks there may be a "dog-fight" for the nomination between two of our leading politicians (Paul and Maurice). And that their wrangle might open the door to a man who could be relied upon to give the Commonwealth a clean, ethical, business administration. It is an interesting possibility to our mind. We would like to talk about it (and doubtless shall) with Dr. Spellman, orthopedic surgeon, fire department physician-in-chief and brother of the Cardinal.

THE LOUIS-WALCOTT fight in New York tomorrow night will be televised for a small, invited audience at Station WJZ.

We hear the Mayfair show policy that will cash-in on Boston's love for operettas. You would probably get a kick out of the wall cartoons of popular Boston spots, at Dave Schwartz' delicatessen on Tremont st. near Stuart (opened less than a week ago). Tom Dorgan has written to our two Senators and to five Congressmen, renewing his fight for a centrally-situated building housing all services to veterans. Late but sincere thanks to Mayor Lausier and Police Chief Pore of Biddford from the Boston press photographers whose forest fire coverage was greatly facilitated by these two officials.

MET actor-producer Gustav Wally at the Statler, Gustav said he will bring his revue "Serenade," to America from Stockholm, after a stop in London. The composer is Louis Lajth, a Hungarian, whom the Nazis drove out of Budapest, then out of Denmark. Gustav has produced "Showboat," "Roberta" and other American operettas in Stockholm, and expects to produce "Ophelia" and "Carousell." Incidentally, he said Londoners are traveling to Stockholm to shop for goods that aren't on the British market at any price. Mrs. Garwood Van, wife of our favorite orchestra leader, will be 23 on the 25th. She can't separate her birthday from Christmas but she can (and does) insist on double recognition of the occasion by her husband. The Rio Casino is installing a $3500 television unit. Sally Keith is rehearsing eight tassel girls who will go on tour. But only two of the girls can whirl 'em.

CONGRESSWOMAN EDITH ROGERS has asked the Navy to man its idle tankers (including 50 turned over by the Maritime Commission) to haul oil to New England. And says this country is shipping both oil and coal abroad (to Russia, too), while we face a shortage. Is full Graham the lawyer who is seeking to have any one of three city councilors elected president of the Council? And speaking of that election: Jim Conley says his policy is hands off. Jimmy O'Leary, one of the Cambridge policemen, had a great record with the Marmes. Leonard Ginsburg of Revere graduates this month from Northeastern University, and next month takes office as the youngest city official in Revere's history. He is 24 and a rounciman-elect. Friends will fete him. Motorists will be happy to hear that plans are in the making for a new bridge over the Charles from a point just beyond the Stadium to Gerry's Landing, where that fine new highway skirts the river. It will ease the Anderson bridge bottleneck.

TOO MUCH credit cannot be given the veterans' organizations for obtaining through our members of Congress, the additional allotment for the Veterans Administration here. The $276,000 is earmarked for medical and dental bills for this quarter, ending Dec. 31. A united front turned the trick. It is unlikely the vets will ever try again to get branch office to act. Direct action at Washington won the day. The money was there all the time. The VA explained it found funds by re-study of the budget. Entirely alone, this column fought in support of the veterans' organizations which now say we were a major factor in getting results. Carrying the ball were the Disabled American Veterans, VFW, Legion, Amvets, Marine Corps League, Jewish War Veterans, IWA Com. Two, united front chairman, is pleased with what our Representatives in Congress achieved. The next thing needed is authority from Washington to increase personnel. The office here is about 233 employees.

AT AVON and Washington sta. encountered the debut Madame Flora (Marie Powers). Marie was shopping for a complete skin outfit for Christmas holidays in Canada. ("The Medium" will then be laying-off for a week in Detroit). You can buy anything you want, in Boston," she said. "Your stores are arranged with wonderful taste. Everybody's no polite—even your taxi cab drivers."—a good word for Marie if she was in real life. She replied that she was singing in Aida with Martinielli at the hour her mother died, and had a premonition like a blinding flash of light. The unique show at the Majestic plays its 230th performance tonight. Marie is a unique person. Every evening, morning, before going to bed, she answers every letter received in the previous 24 hours. Yesterday she received a letter from a woman who reads character from handwriting. She told Marie she should have been a medium.

A BOSTONIAN reports from Miami Beach that pastesters are getting $30 a day, $50 for Saturday and $60 for Sunday. Bobby McKee, who rules the bangtails at Suffolk Downs, Narragansett and Rockingham, is off for Santa Anita, soon with a bride. She is Irene McMullen and Bobby let the secret out at Hurley's Log Cabin. Charles Dalton and Bill Smith, who put up those stolen bonds for loans lately, got 4½ years each in New York. Smith told the FBI he won the bonds playing stud poker at a Boston hotel with a stranger he met at the Narragansett track.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The subject of today's debate will be: "Resolved that intellectuals are dopes."

Now that we have stated the proposition, leave us get down to argument. We will take the case of the ten Hollywoodites cited for contempt of Congress. They are intellectuals. They admit it, without any interrogation by the House un-American Committee. Yet some are almost certainly headed for jail.

I remember once interviewing Lewis E. Lawes when he was warden at Sing Sing. He looked out the window at the ugly surroundings and observed: "There are no smart men in prison."

Somewhat I've always remembered that line, "There are no smart men in prison." A man can be travelling high, wide, and handsome, the world seemingly his oyster, but the minute those big gates close on him he's a mugg.

The thing that has most bothered a lot of us is the espousal of Communism by many of the country's so-called intellectuals. But, if these intellectuals are really intelligent, how do you explain their foolishness? Many explanations have been advanced but the one that seems most plausible is that they are so imbued with a sense of their own cleverness they delude themselves.

HERE ARE 10 men, who, by their ability in a free enterprise market, were making salaries aggregating nearly a million dollars a year. They got the opportunity because this country permits you to make opportunity.

From childhood we have heard of so-and-so was "too smart for his own good." Every big prison is full of guys who thought they were smart and found out different.

Distorted thinking is never smart thinking. And I have never known a really clever man who posed as an intellectual—certainly not since the weird thinkers have brought the word into abuse.

When the Thomas committee was holding its hearings here I heard a strange defense of Dalton Trumbo, the $3500-a-week writer of many hit films. A Hollywood who has known Trumbo for years said he could not be so severely blamed for his distorted ideas.

This defender said that Trumbo, in his youth, had worked in a bakery shop—had served long and slavish hours for a pittance hardly sufficient to keep body and soul together. He said he said this had "left a mark" upon the poor fellow.

Now, let us just consider that for a moment. Here we are under an economic system and form of government that permitted him to get out of the bakery and into fame and fortune. It "left a mark on him." Hah!

MAYBE THE FATE that seems inevitable for some of these ten may serve to convince others that intellectuals are not so intelligent.

There are no smart men in prison.

HAROLD STEIN, until recently the right-hand man of presidential assistant John Steelman, has officially registered as a lobbyist. He stated he is receiving a $10,000 salary to lobby on behalf of the committee for the Marshall Plan to aid European recovery.

Maybe Dr. Steelman ought to register as lobbyist for a plan to aid the President.

Bogey 'Ill-Advised' On Red Film Probe

Special to Boston American
CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—"I was ill-advised, even foolish," Humphrey Bogart, movie villain, told Chicago friends today in discussing his recent trip to Washington with other Hollywood celebrities to "protest" the House Red film probe.

Accompanied by his beautiful wife, Lauren Bacall, "Bogey" said, "the trip has become the subject of much confused and erroneous interpretations. I am not a Communist. I am not a Communist sympathizer. I detest Communism just as any other decent American does."

"I am an American. And, like a good many, I am sometimes a foolish and impetuous American."

Do Wet Streets Cause Rain?

Do High Prices Cause Inflation?

WET STREETS no more cause rain than high prices cause inflation:

Wet streets are the result of rain. High prices are the disastrous result of inflation:

In order to halt inflation we must first understand its cause.

Inflation comes when the flow of money into the markets is greater than the flow of goods into the markets:

Trying to control the result of inflation—high prices—therefore, is putting the cart before the horse.

That's why a way must be found—and quickly—to bring the flow of money (demand) into better balance with the flow of goods (supply). That is the only way to reduce the inflationary pressures which drive prices up.

At the same time, we all want to maintain the standard of living of the American people, and provide the necessary amount of aid to foreign nations:

To accomplish all three of these high purposes, this 12-point program is offered by the National Association of Manufacturers—in the public interest.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF MANUFACTURERS

For a Better Tomorrow for Everybody

12 Forward Steps to Halt Inflation

1. Reduce government spending by maximum efficiency in administration; eliminating excessive government personnel and activities; and postponing all government expenditures not immediately necessary.
2. Provide funds for further capital investment by making an immediate and substantial reduction of individual income tax rates.
3. Adopt a systematic plan for paying off the public debt, with provision for a minimum annual debt retirement of $2½ billion.
4. Offer, and vigorously promote, a new long-term government bond issue having an interest-bearing rate attractive to individual investors; the proceeds to be used to retire government bonds held by banks.
5. Discourage inflationary expansion of bank credit by permitting interest rates to seek their own levels free of government domination.
6. Redoubling, by management, of its efforts to increase production, to lower unit costs, and to pass on the benefits of such increased productivity to the public.
7. Encourage management to plow back earnings and increase output, by eliminating present U. S. Treasury pressure on business to distribute at least 70 per cent of its profits as dividends.
8. Encourage labor leaders to forego demands for further general increases in wages without a corresponding increase in productivity, except in cases of gross inequity.
9. Set aside all restrictions on individual productivity not essential to the safety and health of employees, and remove all feather-bedding rules.
10. Give emergency foreign relief in goods, not in dollars, with an American relief agency making the necessary purchases of whatever goods in whatever markets, here or abroad, prove most economical, and identify them as having been provided by the United States.
11. Finance, to the greatest extent feasible, reconstruction loans to foreign countries, as distinct from gifts and grants, through the World Bank and private sources rather than out of taxes collected from the American public.
12. Provide maximum incentive for increased production abroad by requiring foreign nations, as a condition of our aid, to establish sound currencies and to modify and eventually eliminate price control and other controls over the internal production and distribution of commodities.

made grenades and 160 rounds of ammunition were seized with them.

A pall of smoke hung over Haifa as a result of fires set during the night, including a Jewish lumberyard, garage, planing mill and to factory. An Arab shop in the Jewish section also was burned. An Arab fireman was electrocuted while fighting the flames at the lumberyard.

Arab leaders said they had refused a personal request from Sir Henry Gurney, chief secretary of the Palestine government, to call off the last day of the strike the first two days of which were marked by at least 31 violent deaths, injuries to hundreds and countless cases of pillage and destruction.

For the fourth day Cairo experienced a tumultuous anti-partition demonstration. A crowd estimated at 15,000 paraded, smashed shop windows and set trolley cars and automobiles afire. Police discounted a report that three students were killed and eight were wounded, saying they had no news of casualties.

Witnesses said the students threw stones and empty bottles and that a small group of school boys smashed two windows at the American University.

POLICE CHARGE CROWD

Police fired volleys over the heads of the crowd and charged them with clubs and whips as the demonstrators shouted "Palestine For The Arabs!"

At Lake Success, N. Y., headquarters of the United Nations, Jewish agency officials were reported seeking means for the suppression of the anti-partition rioting in the Holy Land.

Once source said the Agency sought diplomatic pressure by the U. S. State Dept. on Arab governments in the Middle East and an embargo on materials which might be used to further the Palestine conflict.

Find Many Broken Homes Caused by Drinking Women

Social workers, aware of the evils which have come to Boston families because of the increase of drinking among women, today expressed satisfaction at announcement of

Miss Mary E. Driscoll, chairman of the Boston Licensing Board, that she is opposed to the serving of alcoholic beverages to feminine drinkers at bars.

At the same time they expressed hope Miss Driscoll would give active support to pending legislation which would forbid women to frequent bars in Massachusetts.

"Woman's place is not at the bar," Miss Driscoll said today. "The time has come when serious thought must be given this problem. I believe it to be a breach of feminine propriety to sit at bars and drink."

A bill which would make bars strictly masculine territory has been filed with the Legislature by Rep. Edmund J. Donlan of West Roxbury.

Dolan today expressed satisfaction at the views held by Miss Driscoll and predicted his measure would receive widespread support from civic-minded men and women who have seen the evil effects liquor has had upon families in their communities.

"The time has come for action," he said. "It is to be regretted that so many homes have already been broken as a result of this evil."

THE INSIDE STORY ON WHY...

A. B. Cunningham* Switched to Calvert

"CHUCK" CUNNINGHAM, popular Belleville barber, learned about Calvert from a customer. "He was so pleased with Calvert's smoother flavor," says Chuck, "that I tried it one night. And switched to Calvert for keeps!"

Hint for the holidays: switch to Calvert, give Calvert. Greater blending experience makes Calvert a whiskey of pleasanter smoothness, mildness and lightness. A gift unmatched by other whiskeys anywhere near the price!

HUNTING comes natural to Chuck, an ex-serviceman. He tells us, "Moderation's my middle name. But after bagging the limit in the field—I'll have my highball made with Calvert. It's lighter, better tasting."

Proper Fur Coat Care

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

IF YOUR fur coat is worth wearing, it's worth taking care of. J. Laskin & Sons Corp., furriers, furnish these important dos and don'ts:

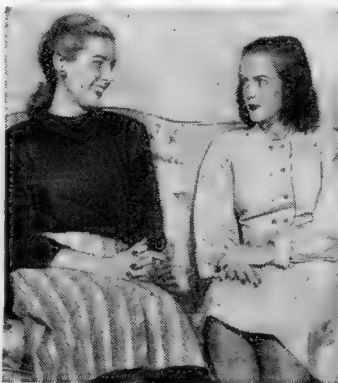

1. Keep your coat in a cool, well-aired closet away from heat. A sponge kept wet in a small bowl helps balance the humidity.
2. Hang furs carefully, never on a hook.
3. Don't jam furs into a crowded closet. Keep them away from woolens and other breeders of moths.
4. Avoid unnecessary rubbing of fur by hats, handbags, packages.
5. Avoid unnecessary strain. When sitting down, open your coat to relieve tension in the back.
6. If your coat gets wet, shake off excess moisture before hanging it up. Let it dry in a draft of cool air out of direct sunlight. Never dry over radiator. When thoroughly dry, shake coat by hand.

7. Rips and tears should be repaired at once.
8. Examine often for moth ravage. If found, send coat at once to a reliable cleaner.
9. Never use cleaning fluid to remove spots. Dyed fur must not come in contact with camphor or naphthalene.
10. Have furs cleaned and stored during spring and summer.

Easy Way to Eye Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

LADYLIKE, ELEGANT, exquisite . . . and a few hundred other such well-chosen words . . . are the new fashion adjectives to add to life's boredom. And the new fashion fabrics? They are lush and plush satins, deep-piled velvets, whispering taffetas, brocades, fragile laces . . . worn with heirloom jewelry and smooth caps of hair.

And what does it all add up to? You, of course . . . the portrait of a lady . . . what you thought you looked like for all these years . . . but which Dame Fashion says you haven't until this season; believe it or not.

However you view the fashion picture . . . you're always painting your own picture in the way you make up your face . . . the eyes, particularly.

EYE CARE IS EASY

Actually, eye beauty care is effective because it is so easy. Keep those brows gracefully appealing by removing these few stragglers that always mar their winged curve . . . or give a frowning look across the forehead. A professional type tweezer with scissor handles that are curved to allow a full view of the procedure is specific for the job. Its blunt ends give a firm grip on each individual hair and prevent nipping of the delicate skin around the eyes.

No matter how long your lashes may be . . . they still have light ends which don't show up. Nor are all of them the same length . . . for eyelashes are constantly replenishing themselves and are in all stages of growth at the same time. A colorless eyelash cream is a clever beauty trick for taming unkempt hairs.

Brush it on with your finger or a small brush. It won't affect your own natural coloring but will add a healthy sheen both to brows and lashes. When the lashes are treated to this softening balm they are left pliable and ready for curling up to THERE! For the final touch of grooming to increase the eye-power rests in a 30 second manipulation with an eyelash curler . . . which requires no heat or cosmetic. Simply slip the rubber-cushioned bows over the lashes . . . squeeze the scissor handles together and hold firmly while you count to 25. Release the curler and take another peek in the mirror. That's you . . . the new you . . . to defy Dame Fashion's challenge of your portrait-of-a-lady look.

For the names of these three eye-power accessories (and very inexpensive), phone the Beauty Dept., LIBERTY 2-4000 any day except Sunday, or write to me, care of the Boston American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FASHION TIMES may have changed since Edvard Grieg brought the music of Norway to the ears of the world . . . but beauty hasn't. A beautiful girl is still a beautiful girl; especially if, like Melva Niles, Grieg's sweetheart in the footlight "Song of Norway" production, her eyes are "mighty cathedrals of music." In or out of her stage garb, Melva has beauty to boast about.

Fill Cookie Jar for Santa

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

SANTA CLAUS TIME is cookie time. Dates, nuts, spices, coconut, chocolate and many other delicacies now back on the grocers' shelves can be combined with enriched flour to fill the cookie jar and Christmas boxes with exciting treats. Many kinds of cookies are simple and fun to make, and they are fine to have on hand when a "ready" dessert is needed. Cookies make nice fill-ins for those oversized stockings that hang from the fireplace, and serving cookies is a pleasing way to greet holiday callers.

Plain cookies can be festively decorated with bits of red and green citron, sliced dates, maraschino cherries, colored candies and sugar, or crushed peppermint. Cookies cut in the shape of stars, trees, Santas, deer, bells make fun for the children as well as edible decorations for the tree. Some of the simpler shapes need no cookie cutter at all. A clever hand, a sharp knife and imagination will do the job of cutting out amusing shapes.

Here are some recipes to start with. If you're interested in further suggestions, write to us for a free copy of a new cookie pamphlet just off the press. It's beautifully colored and contains many gay ideas for Christmas. Address Martha Lee, Record-American, Boston 6, Mass.

CHRISTMAS COOKIES

3 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
2-3 cup sugar 2 eggs

1 tsp. salt 1 cup shortening
1 tsp. vanilla extract
Sift together flour and salt.
Cream together shortening and sugar. Add eggs and vanilla extract, beating enough to combine ingredients. Chill. Roll out 1/4 inch thick. Cut with fancy shaped cookie cutters. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) about 10 minutes. Makes about 60 2-inch cookies.

TOLL HOUSE COOKIES

1/2 cup butter, margarine or other shortening
6 tbsp. granulated sugar and 6 tbsp. brown sugar
1 egg, beaten whole
1 1/2 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 tsp. soda 1/4 tsp. salt
Few drops of hot water
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 pkg. semi-sweet chocolate morsels 1/2 tsp. vanilla
Blend together the shortening, granulated sugar and brown sugar; add beaten egg; add soda, flour and salt, which have been mixed together. Then add a few drops of hot water and mix together until well blended. Lastly, add chopped nuts and chocolate morsels. Flavor with vanilla. Drop in half teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake in 375 deg. F. oven for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 50 cookies.

NAM Calls CIO Wage Plan 'Trial'

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP)—The National Ass'n of Manufacturers discussed tax reduction and government relief program today after its president, Earl Hunting, expressed belief that a CIO announcement that it will ask substantial wage increases is only a "trial balloon."

CIO President Philip Murray said in his Washington announcement that the CIO proposal was aimed at offsetting high prices. The NAM has asked labor to refrain from further general pay hikes and advocates increased productivity per worker in its program.

The second session of the NAM's three-day congress of American industry today heard details of national economy and tax reduction proposals.

Wilde Students Argue On Role In 'Fan' 'Henry V' in 3d Week at Kenmore

Students of Oscar Wilde and his plays have long waged an argument whether Lord Darlington or Cecil Graham in "Lady Windemere's Fan" is the author's portrait of himself.

Darlington protagonists argue that Wilde not only wrote himself into each of his plays and also "Dorian Gray," but that he always endowed himself with a title for which he longed but never received.

Graham adherents believe that as this character is assigned the bitterest epigrams, the most satirical lines and the great wit, that Wilde must have pictured himself as that gentleman about town.

Whether it is does not bother the audience at the Colonial Theater where the Wilde revival is holding forth to large audiences, as both characters are equally amusing.

Cornelia Otis Skinner is the star of "Lady Windemere's Fan," which gives its last mid-week engagement at the Colonial on Saturday night.

The limited, reduced-admissions engagement of Laurence Olivier's Technicolor production of "Henry V" is now in its third week at the Kenmore Theater. All seats for the Theater Guild-sponsored production are reserved. There are two presentations daily, at 2:30 and 8:30 p. m., and extra matinees Saturdays and Sundays at 5:30.

Name Choice Tough One for Hellinger

The man who tried to find a needle in a haystack has nothing on Mark Hellinger.

Producer Hellinger tried to find a good Irish name that wasn't already on the rolls of the New York police force.

Barry Fitzgerald needed a name for his role of a New York homicide detective in "The Naked City," and they couldn't use the name of an authentic New York policeman.

After three days of research on records of the big city's police personnel, and the discarding of nearly a hundred suggestions, they gave up. Hellinger could have used Barry Fitzgerald.

When Universal-International releases the picture Mr. Fitzgerald will be known as Dan Muldoon, a combination selected at random, for there are a great many Dons and a few Muldoons, but no Dan Muldoon on the New York Police Department personnel records.

'Athens' Star, Director Are Salad Boosters

By PEGGY DOYLE

Sam Wanamaker, who once yearned to be a professional prizefighter, and Anthony Quinn, who was one before he duped father-in-law Cecil B. DeMille into believing (he is half Mexican-half Irish) to win a role in "The Plains-made him the talk of the theater world.

Back East to direct the Lavery play, Wanamaker recently completed his first screen role in "Tisa," opposite Lili Palmer (Mrs. Rex Harrison). Upon the movie audiences' reaction will depend the 28-year-old actor-director's future course.

His Direction Code

Their gain would be Broadway's loss, for the Chicago-born Wanamaker, who had his first taste of the theater as an apprentice in Chicago's Kenneth Sawyer Goodman Theater of the Art Institute, is a born director.

He abhors the clichés of conventional direction, and is never satisfied until he has found a fresh approach to a routine situation.

"There is a constantly exciting quest in directing," he said. "There are certain actors to whom you feed the part. They give it back to you and you say isn't that interesting. There are others who absorb what you give them, instill the breath of Quinn, the brash, steely-eyed, simple-hearted "Gentleman From Athens" of Emmet Lavery's play of the same title at the Plymouth, even has a salad named for him on the celebrated Brown Derby menu, he admitted with modest pride.

It's a Mexican salad, a terrific salad, really a meal in itself, he told us, and with a slight hint came through with the recipe.

Just arrange, he says, a mixed green salad, adding some cooked ground beef, some cut-up chorizo (a highly seasoned Mexican sausage which he doubts is available here), Parmesan cheese, a dressing made of three parts oil to one part vinegar and the white of a raw egg . . . and your own blend of seasoning.

"But," and here the genuinely modest Quinn became flagrantly boastful, "you should taste my wife's (Katherine DeMille) per-simmon salad! Ten years ago when we were married she almost smoked us out of our honeymoon apartment the first breakfast because she cooked. Now she is one of Hollywood's most famous cooks."

Yes, the stage and screen actor admitted reluctantly, he taught her how to cook, a knack he learned from his grandmother, who bested them all in the over-the-hot-stove department. This doubtless gave him more time to devote to his painting and sculpture . . . he has won international prizes in the latter field . . . chess, in which he excels, and reading, which he admits doing to reward excess.

"Nor is he a bad actor," smilingly interpolated Wanamaker, whose direction of last season's Broadway hit, "Joan of Lorraine," and performance opposite the starring Ingrid Bergman in the Maxwell Anderson drama life in it and give it added dimensions.

"All a director can do is to cerebralize a role for an actor. He can tell him this is what you should be doing and feeling but unless an actor can give it back with added dimensions of life he can never convince you that he is other than acting a part."

Both Bergman and Quinn . . . this is his pre-Broadway debut although he appeared in small West Coast productions . . . have a bounceworthy quality, according to director Wanamaker, have what it is for great performances. Each, he said, is completely wrapped in acting and gives everything to her and his career.

Quinn, earnestly pleased but not entirely convinced, would credit his "wonderful first night reception to Sam's inspired direction and a great sense."

There is blame fault he has to find with direction . . . it's likely to result in his returning to Hollywood with a cauliflower forehead on account of bumping the statue of Icarus off the table every performance.

Plan Auditions For Contraltos

In quest of a contralto to fill a vacancy in a featured role in "The Medium" following its departure from the Majestic Theater a week from Saturday night, auditions will be conducted at the theater tomorrow and Monday afternoons at 2 o'clock.

Marie Powers, star of Gian-Carlo Menotti's musical play and celebrated opera diva, will assist in the selections. The winner will be given a contract with the company, which commences a nationwide tour in Detroit following the local run.

Iodine Atoms Shown As Cure for Goiter

Experiments have shown that radioactive iodine atoms can cure a large percentage of cases of advanced thyroid gland trouble, such as goiter, Dr. Earle M. Chapman of Boston, member of the Radiological Society of North America, stated today.

The cure, he said, was discovered by using atoms made in the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic ovens this year.

Walcott Once $50 Spar Mate For Joe Louis

By JACK CONWAY

THE PUBLIC will pay top money to see a puncher in action even if he has an aged relative as an opponent. Joe Louis is proving this to be true once more as the fans clamor for the opportunity to see the champion in action against Jersey Joe Walcott in a 15-round title bout in Madison Square Garden, New York, tomorrow night.

JOE LOUIS

Walcott used to be one of Louis' sparring partners in 1936. He was probably paid at the rate of $50 plus food and lodging. One afternoon while doing his $50-a-day chore, Walcott stumbled in the way of Louis' devastating left hook and was hung on the ropes. Walcott returned to his routine training job the following day, and by the exercise of due care and a reasonable amount of caution he managed to go three rounds without suffering too many bruises.

If Walcott is hung on the ropes at Madison Square Garden, he will receive considerably higher compensation than he did in 1936. Jersey's pay check will call for 15 per cent of the gate after deduction of federal and state taxes and the cost of the officials. It is anticipated that the gate receipts will break the Delaney-Maloney 1927 record of $202,000 for a Garden show, and as a result Walcott's end will go between $35,000 and $10,000.

It should be a pleasant, though, for Walcott to know that at the age of 38 he will be paid $35,000 to $40,000 if he is knocked out, for when he was 11 years younger and supposedly in his prime physically he considered himself lucky to get $50 a day, plus all he could eat and a comfortable bed, for being stopped in a training camp far from the lights of Broadway.

The fight crowd is pleased to see Walcott hit the jackpot in the twilight of his boxing career. There are six children in the Walcott household, and what with the high cost of food, rental and clothing, Jersey Joe has been having his financial headaches like most other folks.

Betting on What Round Louis Scores Kayo

AS THESE LINES are being written, nobody has been found who has wagered as much as a stray $2 bill on Walcott to win. Perhaps some carefree soul will do so when the odds go from 8 to 1 to 1000 to 1.

There has not been any rush by feature newspaper syndicates or moving picture companies to secure options on Walcott's services to be effective if Jersey wins the title. The promoters as well as the public figure it is merely a routine match, and that Louis will win by a knockout when he decides the workout has gone far enough.

Louis weighs 212 pounds which is sufficient proof he needs some hard work in the ring. Joe has been away from the ring wars since a year ago last September when he knocked out Tami Mauriello. The "Bomber" has always had a tendency to pack on weight. He has frequently stated he likes to have two or three warmup bouts before opening fire on a first-class opponent.

Inactivity also takes from Louis his judgment of distance. This was not noticeable in his last bout with Billy Conn, as the latter had also been out of action for five years, and did not have any burning desire to trade blows with the champion.

Louis Will Get $100,000 as Share of Spoils

LOUIS WILL GET close to $100,000 for his end of the purse. After payment of management, training expenses and taxes, Joe will end up with about $35,000 for himself. His purse for an exhibition bout in Honolulu earlier this year, was $35,000.

Louis' net income from all sources this year will be less than $100,000. When, as a young fighter, he fought Max Baer and Primo Carnera, it was a poor year when he did not earn from $300,000 to $500,000. Joe has suffered a great financial loss due to the fact there is not a worthy challenger in sight.

A white challenger possessed of the ability that enabled Louis to smash his way to the world's championship would draw a $2,000,000 gate with the "Bomber."

Tomorrow, well ask our famous Magic Coin to name the round in which Louis will win. The Coin would surprise me if it has the bout going the limit. At least I do not believe it will name Walcott to win. Jersey Joe is still a $50-a-day fighter who has been rocketed into the $35,000 to $40,000-a-night class by heavyweight inflation.

Prexy of Olympics Plans To Hold Games Without U.S.

GENEVA, Dec. 4 (AP)—American participation in the winter Olympic games at St. Moritz became doubtful today when Marcel Henninger, president of the organizing committee of the games, declared there would be no change in recognition of a hockey team as demanded by the United States committee.

The organizing committee has designated the American Hockey Association, instead of the Amateur Union, as the group entitled to select an ice hockey team.

Yesterday at Chicago the United States Olympic committee threatened to withdraw all United States teams from the winter games due to start Jan. 30, if the Swiss committee stood firm in preferring the Amateur Hockey Association.

"If they don't want to come we shall be obliged to hold the games without the United States," said Henninger in asserting that the committee would not reverse its decision.

The argument between the organizing committee and the American Olympic committee centers on the amateur status of the American Hockey Ass'n, termed by members of the American committee as "professional and commercial."

The American committee passed a resolution stating that "in the event of the Swiss organizing committee's violations of the Olympic regulations governing entries... it be and hereby is the sense of the United States Olympic committee that all United States teams in the winter Olympic games at St. Moritz be withdrawn."

Henninger expressed his regret over the action. Commenting on the conflict between the A. A. U. and the Amateur Hockey Ass'n, Henninger declared:

"The United States is the only country in the Olympic games with a situation like that, and we cannot very well change rules which apply to everybody in order to meet it."

The organizing committee was due to take its final decision on the matter at a meeting in St. Moritz Dec. 13. Henninger predicted the committee "will not change its attitude."

If the American Olympic committee in fact boycotted the winter games, said Henninger, the United States would be represented only by a hockey team of the A. A. U. Other sports in which the Americans have teams ready to sail are skiing, speed and fancy skating, and bobsledding.

West Chester Named For Cigar Bowl Game

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP)—One North Tampa New Year's Day Cigar Bowl has been filled by West Chester State Teachers College, winner of 10 games without a defeat this season.

Acceptance of the bid to the second annual charity event by West Chester, one of the country's top small college teams, was announced last night by Rex Farrior, chairman of the selection committee.

The Teachers' opponent is expected to be selected shortly.

New Hampshire Squad Off for Toledo Game

DURHAM, N. H., Dec. 4 (INS)—New Hampshire University's undefeated Wildcats leave today for Toledo, Ohio, where they will meet University of Toledo in the Glass Bowl Saturday.

The team will have a final limbering up session before taking the train for Toledo. Coach Buff Glassford indicated his club would count heavily on forward passes to get past the heavier Toledo crew.

Report Durocher Back as Manager of Dodgers

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP)—Leo Durocher, suspended for a year "for conduct detrimental to baseball" has been signed to manage the Brooklyn Dodgers for 1948, the Daily Mirror reported today in a copyrighted story.

The Mirror also reported that Dixie Walker, popular Brooklyn outfielder, has been traded to the Pittsburgh Pirates with pitchers Hal Gregg and Vic Lombardi for shortstop Billy Cox, plus cash and several other undisclosed players.

Durocher affixed his signature to the 1948 contract at Chesterton, Md., the Mirror said, thereby prevailing over Burt Shotton, who last season piloted the Dodgers to the National League pennant.

Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers, signed Durocher after receiving an O. K. from Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, the Mirror said, Chandler suspended Durocher early in the 1947 baseball season.

Rickey Denies Signing Of Leo Durocher

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP)—Indications grew today that Leo Durocher, under suspension for a year, will be back as manager of the Brooklyn baseball team in 1948, but Branch Rickey, Dodger president, said flatly he had not been signed.

The New York Daily Mirror, in a copyrighted story, said he had. The signing, said the Mirror, took place at Chesterton, Md., farm home of Rickey.

"He has not been signed and we have not discussed terms," said Rickey.

This statement did not preclude the possibility that he would be signed.

Among clues to the attitude of Rickey in bringing back the man suspended for 1947 for "conduct detrimental to baseball" was his statement that "I have seen the commissioner, and that milestone is no longer around my neck. Now I can move as I have wanted to move for some time, but there are a lot of things to be done and I am doing them as rapidly as possible."

He referred to Commissioner A. B. Chandler, whom he saw in Cincinnati earlier this week.

B. U. FETE DEC. 13

The BUAA has announced that the Boston University "all-sports" banquet will be held on Saturday, Dec. 13, at the Hayden Memorial Auditorium at the Business Administration Building.

Furey, Reilly Lead BC, HC Elevens

Big John Furey, 215 pounds tackle was elected to the 1948 Boston College football captaincy yesterday.

The Medford junior succeeded Angelo Nicketakakis of Lynn as the B. C. leader and continues a succession of linemen as B. C. captains. Excluding the informal war years, a lineman has captained the Eagles since 1940.

Furey, a veteran of the A. A. F. warfare in Europe, is married and the father of a 3-month-old baby girl.

At Worcester, Jim Reilly, a guard, was elected captain of the Holy Cross squad for next year.

Brookline Boy Signed By Bruins

The Bruins do not propose to overlook any high school prospects in this vicinity. President Weston Adams of the club is anxious to encourage Greater Boston hockey players. Toward this end, the Bruins have placed Jack Kirrane of Brookline on their National League reserve list and have signed him for a tryout at the Hershey training camp.

Jack Kirrane at the Hershey training camp.

Kirrane is presently playing for the Junior Olympics and had an exceptional sports record at Brookline High, where he played left wing and defense.

This is a splendid gesture on the part of Adams and is bound to react favorably with the younger local players who, as usual, look with envy at big league players.

Art Ross, general manager of the Bruins, is confined to his Brookline home with a case of intestinal flu which prevented his attending the great honor accorded the famed Les Patrick when the latter was awarded a certificate for hockey's hall of fame last night at the New York Garden. Art and Les have been pals since their Westmount (Que.) school days. Both are credited with many of the innovations that have served to make pro hockey the fast and fascinating game it is today.

Coach Dit Clapper is cracking down in more ways than one. To show that he is in supreme command, Dit has ordered all Bruin players to be dressed by 8:10. . . Clapper might hold tight talks prior to game time. . . Hockey writers will be "included out" of the dressing by 7:50.

It's a mystery why the wolves are on Don Gallinger and Billy Taylor. These forwards have been playing their hearts out, yet the boys in the balcony don't see it that way. . . As President Adams stated at the Bruin pre-game dinner, he expected a marked improvement in the team's play even without Henderson and Schmidt.

Johnny Gottselig is still managing the Hawks despite reports that the club would move him upstairs and place either Lionel or Charley Conacher in command. . . The Bruins have an exacting week-end ahead of them but fortunately on home ice. . . Saturday they tackle the Rangers here and Sunday renew their feud with the Canadiens.

The Bruins have no claim on Allan Stanley, the handsome defenseman playing with Terry Reardon's Providence Reds. When the Bruins let out Allan it was on a straight sale basis. . . Now four N. H. L. clubs are seeking this crack defenseman. HOEY

MELROSE REF TOPS

Bill Stewart, National League baseball umpire and supervisor of referees in the American Hockey League and the United States League, brings word that Walton Russell, former Melrose High School star who later made more fame at Hebron Academy, is a most efficient referee. In fact, Bill says Walt is a better official than the National Hockey League can produce.

Stewart also is strong for Hugh McLean of Hamilton, Ont., another AHL referee, who was born in Scotland. The Russell-McLean duo is tops in pro hockey, according to Stewart.

HOEY

B's Need Schmidt to Get Back on Winning Path³⁹

By FRED HOEY

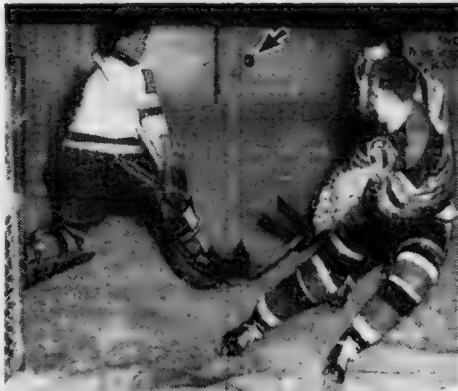

Milt Schmidt may not be a one-man team but he is a vital cog in the hockey plans of the Bruins as was evidenced at the Garden last night when the home forces were held to a 4-4 tie by the Chicago Blackhawks.

The absence of Schmidt and Murray Henderson certainly was felt in this game when Coach Dit Clapper was forced to use makeshift lines. With Schmidt sidelined for a month and Henderson for at least two weeks, the prospects for the Bruins is anything but rosy, even though they have two home games before them.

By going to a tie with the Hawks, the Bruins have failed to win a game in their last six starts, which includes two ties. This is hardly the record the home fans expects from a team which looked so good up to two weeks ago.

It was a hard tie for the Bruins to absorb since the Hawks tied it up at 4-4 with only two minutes eight seconds remaining in the battle. The marker which deadlocked the game was particularly hard for the fans to take since the Bruins were a man short at the time. Fern Flaman was in the penalty box for interference.

It just wasn't the Bruins' night to win although they worked hard and courageously. It was their own shortcomings that handicapped the team. They made passes too far ahead or behind the intended receiver. Then, to add to their woes, Doug Jackson, the goalie from Winnipeg who started early this season with Kansas City, had one of those nights that come once in a lifetime for a goalie.

The 23-year-old kid made several uncanny saves. The Bruins were in on him time and again but he parried their shots. His own defense was spotty, which put it squarely up to him.

Our own Frankie Brimsek had to come up with several brilliant stops as the fast Hawks sifted through the Bruin defense. Brimkie didn't have much of a chance on any of the Chicago goals, so close in were the scorers.

The goalies had a very busy evening as evidenced by the steps Brimkie had 33 and Jackson 27.

The Hawks and Bruins each scored two goals in the first period. The Hawks went ahead in the second on Doug Bentley's goal. Pete Haisanaka tied it up for the Bruins in the third on passes from Pat Egan and Billy Taylor. Clare Martin put the Bruins out front on Don Gallinger's rebound after 16:14 of the third period.

Then followed the Red Poole's single effort to create another tie after 17:52 of the third period. It was during this play that Fern Flaman was sitting in the penalty box.

The game was held up five minutes in the second period while goalie Doug Jackson of the Hawks went to the dressing room for repairs to one of his skates. . . Murray Henderson, the sidelined Bruin defense player, and spare goalie Mike Karakas viewed the game from the press box. . . The four home games in a row places a heavy burden on the season ticket-holders. It appeared last night as if some of the customers remained to listen to Frank Ryan's radio description.

both to talk with anyone. "They all run when they see us coming," "don't know as I blame them."

A. L. clubs can't be interested in money when they run from Cronin. We learn officially here he gave the Browns $365,000 for Kramer and Stephens.

A big league trade was finally pulled and it was of interest to Boston, though it didn't concern either Hub club.

Milton's Elbie Fletcher was shipped from the Pittsburgh Pirates to the Cleveland Indians. The Bucs took first-sacker Les Fleming in exchange to send to their Indianapolis farm, which Al Lopez was signed to manage a few hours before this swap.

How waivers were obtained on Fletcher in the National League is beyond this writer, who probably is prejudiced since we embarked Elbie on his pro career.

The Pirates now have Ed Stevens, former Dodger, to guard the initial sack. The Phillies have Howie Schultz, another Brooklyn cast-off. Neither can carry Fletcher's "claw" in our estimations.

We see the fine Italian hand of Deacon Will McKechnie, who was Fletcher's first big league boss and now is a Cleveland coach, in this only major league player swap yet engineered at this minor league meeting.

Harris Tests Chinese Boxer

Richie Shinn, Chinese boxer from San Francisco who has ground out a successful career as a pugilist, will be making his first local start in sometime when he steps into the ring at Mechanics Bldg. to meet Bulldog Jackie Harris, Malden, tonight.

Shinn, only 26, sports an impressive ring record of 42 wins in 47 fights since entering the professional ranks six years ago. It was back in 1940, Shinn's first and only year as an amateur, that he made his first Boston appearance. That year found him winning the Golden Gloves championship in San Francisco, and representing that city in the National Amateurs here at the Garden. He fought his way into the semi-finals on that occasion.

Although the fighting Chinaman's boxing career was interrupted by a three and a half year tour of duty with the U. S. Infantry through the European campaigns, he was not long in regaining his fighting skill. Much of the lad's ring finesse was taught him by the late Tony Pallazola, and his present manager, Eddie Walker, has no end of praise for his ability.

Shinn's most recent success was a five-round knockout of Jorge Estrada, colorful Cuban battler, in Cleveland.

If he meets with any degree of success tomorrow night, he plans on prolonging his stay in Boston.

Murray Worthy Successor To Sherlock on 'All' Board

By BOB WALDO

One man's loss is another man's gain. Although this adage doesn't usually apply to the same body, in this case it does. For with the loss of "Skip" Sherlock to the Boston Evening American's Board of Coaches, it gains the services of Rosindale's Fred Murray.

The final balloting for the "official" all team, representing the best schoolboy football players in and around Boston, will be held next Monday night at the Hotel Lenox. The selecting of this 10 carot team will go on from 6:30 p. m. until each position is decided on by popular vote, regardless of the hour.

After considering several possibilities for the berth left vacant by Sherlock of Hyde Park when he resigned from the coaching ranks, Murray appeared the logical choice for the position.

Murray has lived with the pigskin, in some form or another, since early in the nineteenth century. He has played, coached, or witnessed the game at every opportunity through the last 50 years.

Before picking up his duties as football coach at Rosindale in 1936—after the school's inaugural year—Murray had taught football tactics at English High School, and Gloucester. A three year hitch as head football and basketball coach at Rhode Island State College interrupted his teachings in Boston.

As far back as 1911 he was prominent in the Boston schools, playing on the Public Latin eleven. His college days were spent on the gridiron of Georgetown University where he starred and captained the 1915 Hoyas.

Proof that Murray knows football material when he spots it is witnessed by the fact that he boasts 28 wins, while only dropping eight decisions in the last five years with Rosindale.

With his keen knowledge of finer points of the game, he is an added reason why the Boston American All-Scholastic Team is considered "official." Each possible candidate is thoroughly discussed, his good points and faults, by the selecting board.

Deer Bag Runs High

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

"Despite unfavorable conditions, with the woods noisy from lack of snow, Massachusetts deer hunters bagged numerous bucks in the Quabbin Reservoir area early this week," stated Chief Conservation Officer Lloyd Walker, of the State Conservation Dept. The local season ends Saturday at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

"Gunners on Cape Cod have done fairly well," added Mr. Walker. "The white-tailed animals have also been reported plentiful in Littleton, Groton, Harvard, Townsend, Shirley, Plymouth County, and the Berkshires."

If conditions improve, this outdoorsman predicts that the total deer kill may reach a figure of between 3100 and 3500. The record bag occurred in 1945 when 3567 deer were shot. He estimates the deer population in the Bay State today at well over 15,000.

GUN SHOTS: Maine's second half of a split waterfowl season is now in full swing, with the sport said to be particularly good in the famed Merry Meeting Bay region. Black ducks, whistlers and bluebills filled the air, and a large number were downed by eager birds. The season winds up Dec. 13.

The second "shift" of New Hampshire's duck season is also underway. A large share of the opening influx of hunters concentrated along the coastline and the shores of Great Bay, where it is hoped flights will be at their peak. Dec. 13 is the closing date here, as well.

CLUB CHATTER: At the meeting of the North Shore Sportsmen's Club, this evening, at the Eastern Improvement Association's rooms, East Lynn, Paul S. Bauer, member of the Sportsmen's Advisory Board, will discuss various angles on conditions within the Dept. of Conservation. . . The regular monthly gathering of the Hingham Sportsmen's Club will be held at G. A. R. Hall, Hingham, next Monday evening. This outfit will stage its annual Game Dinner, Dec. 13, with everything on the menu from bear steaks to venison.

Entries Now Open For Park Hoop Loops

The Boston Park Dept. has announced that applications for all basketball leagues are now being accepted. Teams will be classified according to age groups and abilities.

Registrations will close on Dec. 20. Entry forms are available at each of the 11 municipal gymnasiums, and at Park Recreation Division, Pinebank House, Jamaicaaway, Jamaica Plain.

SNOWFLOW-ING—Paula Kann, U. S. Olympic skier, demonstrates the snowplow maneuver on slats in the fourth lesson of "Skiing Made Easy." Beginners are advised to learn this maneuver early.

Skiing Made Simple-- No. 4

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

THE SNOWFLOW—This maneuver is the most important one in learning the fundamentals of skiing, for from the Snowplow emanate many turns. As soon as you have mastered the Snowplow, you can stop safely—or "put on the brakes"—when running any trail or slope.

Practice the Snowplow position on level terrain before trying it on a hill. As Paula Kann, U. S. Olympic racer, demonstrates in the photo, the tips of the skis are brought together to form a V. And the chief difficulty for the beginner lies in preventing the tips from crossing! Constant practice, however, will remedy this.

As in the downhill running position, the weight is always forward when snowplowing, with the knees well bent. Relax completely, and hold your poles above your knees—but do not let them drag!

Now, push out the ends of your skis, the tips together, as you traverse a slope. You will find that the wider the V, the sooner you will come to a stop. The Snowplow may also be used to go at a slow pace. By experimenting, you'll discover how to control your speed.

Most instructors advocate keeping the hickories flat on the snow when snowplowing, but it is permissible to edge your boards a bit. Snow conditions will govern just how much you should edge them.

We stress the Snowplow because our lessons are based on the Arlberg Technique, and is exactly the way GIs were taught the art in the Mountain Troops. It's the foolproof method, safe and simple.

(In tomorrow's American, "Tap" will explain the Snowplow Turn.)

DaGrosa Blasts Myers; Claims Pass Play Legal

By EDDIE HOPKINS

It was Bobby Sullivan's night but "Mr. Pickoff" (John "Ox" DaGrosa, Holy Cross football coach), was easily the outstanding performer. The occasion was the annual dinner of the Gridiron Club of Boston at the Lenox last night where some 350 gathered to watch Bobby Sullivan of Holy Cross receive the George Bulger Low Award, given each year to the outstanding football player of New England.

Rumors were rife before the dinner that DaGrosa was going to blow off a little steam and the retiring head coach at Holy Cross didn't disappoint anyone.

After paying glowing tribute to Sullivan as being most deserving of the award he had just received, DaGrosa picked up the gauntlet.

"I have become Mr. Pickoff," according to DaGrosa in one of the Boston papers. On the second play of the game last Saturday, Myers came running over to our bench shouting 'That's a pickoff play. That's a pickoff play!'

"Let me say now, that if the movies show any play we used a pickoff, I'll gladly take over Myers' four-year contract at BC. I'll do what he couldn't do in the last four years." (BC hasn't beaten Holy Cross during DaGrosa's four-year regime).

ILLEGAL CHARGE

"While on the subject of illegal football, Myers has been using it all year. I spoke to the officials about it before the game. BC has a play where the T-formation quarterback, less than the required yard behind the center, takes the handoff, flips a lateral out to a flanker, and then races downfield to take a pass."

"Ox" didn't bother to explain that one, probably figuring all the arm-chair quarterbacks in the audience were experts. Apparently, the T-quarterback, being less than a yard back of the center, is an ineligible pass receiver.

"They used that play 16 times during the past season, four times against Georgetown. Everytime their quarterback lined up too close to the center on Saturday, I had my boys chant, 'Illegal Clabby, illegal Clabby, illegal Stuka,' whichever the case may have been."

"Another thing, Myers has been substituting two players between plays instead of only one as allowed by the book. He has done that time after time during the season."

PRaise FOR B. C. SQUAD

DaGrosa mentioned the incident of his visiting the BC dressing room after the game wherein he is allegedly reported in a Boston paper to have heard the B. C. players say "throw his out." He said:

"The B. C. players were quite as usually the case with a team that has lost. I asked for their attention and got it. I said: 'Fellows, we won today because we were lucky and got the breaks. You all played a good game. So long!'

"They were very polite. I heard a few 'attaboy Ox' as I was leaving. Not one of them said anything like what was reported in one paper. It's unfair to the clean-cut B. C. players who played their hearts out in the game."

Bobby Sullivan, in accepting the Low award, paid a nice tribute to his fellow co-captain, Ray Ball, who was present at the head table when he said:

"I'm only sorry that Ray, who played his heart out as a blocking back, can't share this award with me. I'm sure that he, and many other New England football players, are just as deserving of this honor as I am."

1-9-4-8 Winners—The four top qualifiers on the 1948 U. S. women's Olympic ski team wear numerals 1-9-4-8 as they train at Sun Valley, Idaho, for winter Olympics to be held starting Jan. 3 at St. Moritz. They are (l. to r.) Gretchen Fraser, Vancouver, Wash.; Andrea Mead, Rutland, Vt.; Paula Kann, North Conway, N. H., and Brynhild Grasmoen, Merced, Cal.

En Route—Contemplating better weather while gazing from their dining car window are William Fischer (left), Notre Dame All-America guard, and Capt. George Connor as train moved through inclement weather outside Chicago. They're en route to Los Angeles where the Irish will play the University of Southern California on Saturday.

Rural Love—A love affair that burst into bloom two years ago, when they met at a Chicago livestock show, will culminate in marriage for exhibitors Leslie Cornwell, of Elgin, Ill., and Kathryn McKinley, of Frankfort, Ill. The couple announce their engagement as they exhibit Kathryn's championship Hereford steer "Champ" at current Chicago show.

Irish Autographs—Terry Brennan (left), Notre Dame backfield star whose ailing knee makes him a doubtful starter in Saturday's Univ. of Southern California game, gets his leg cast autographed by teammates, Emil Sitko (center), and Bob Livingstone (right), as the California-bound squad passes through Chicago aboard a private railroad car. Brennan was injured two weeks ago in the Notre Dame-Tulane game.
